Senate Ratifies Kellogg Peace Treaty By 85 To 1 Vote

MONTGOMERY JURY INCOMPLETE

NO CHANGES ARE MADE IN TREATY TEXT

Senator Borah Introduces Report of Committee on Interpretation of Pact

BLAINE IS OPPOSED

Wisconsin Solon Only One Who Casts Negative Vote In Final Ballot Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—After 12 days of intensive debate the senate today ratified the Kellogg treaty renouncing war without changing one word of the text as prepared by Secretary of State Kellogg and the 15 signatories. The ratification was unanimous. The pact, now signed by 59 major powers, pledes the contracting parties to use pacific means of settling their international disputes and condemns recourse to war.

As interpreted by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, it would permit any nation to war in self defense, allowing each nation to determine what it considers its self defense to be.

No record vote was taken upon the various articles of the treaty which were unanimously adopted.

Borah, who handled hte pact in the senate for the aministration, said it would not affect the Monroe Doctrine or any traditional American policies, and that none of the signatories would be pledged in aggression against any nation breaking the pact.

Vice President Dawes later ordered the roll call to be taken on final ratification of the whole treaty as adopted.

A few minutes before the treaty was ratified, Borah introduced a report of the foreign relations committee interpreting the teraty.

Ratification of the treaty had been contested heatedly by a group of so-called irreconcilables who wanted some sort of an official statement outlining Borah's announcement understanding of the treaty's meaning.

The vote was 85 to 1. On the roll call Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, cast the only dissenting vote.

Announcements were made that seven of the nine senators who were absent would have voted for the treaty had they been present.

The two concerning whom no announcements were made were McLean, Republican, Connecticut, an opponent of the treaty, and Goff, Republican, West Virginia, an adherent of the pact.

The treaty grew out of an earlier proposal last summer by Premier Briand of France, for a treaty between France and the United

ANOTHER COLD WAVE STRIKES MIDDLE WEST

Blizzards and Extreme Sub-zero Temperatures Cause Great Suffering

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—(UP) The central portion of the United States faced a renewed siege of wind, snow and extreme sub-zero temperatures today.

General forecasts by the United States weather bureau predicted little relief for the middlewest and northwest which has suffered for 48 hours from blizzards and temperatures which ranged from zero to 41 degrees below zero.

The government forecast predicted that the slight relief brought Chicago and the middlewest by a five-inch snowfall yesterday would end in another cold wave accompanied by temperatures far below zero.

Temperatures in Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Indiana and the upper Michigan peninsula generally held to below zero marks today.

In Chicago and the Great Lakes area the temperature ranged from zero to 10 degrees below.

Efforts of Chicago welfare societies to relieve suffering in the slums were hindered by heavy snow which for several hours hampered traffic and communication.

Reports indicated the cold wave which originated in Alaska had spread through the Great Lakes to Ohio, Michigan and parts of Pennsylvania.

Portions of Missouri were swept by snow and heavy winds.

A sleet storm in southern Illinois forced Col. Charles A. Lindbergh down at St. Elmo, Ill., yesterday. Lindbergh and a party of seven were flying from Indianapolis to St. Louis on a survey for the Transcontinental Air Transport company.

Several fishermen on the Great Lakes are missing. Three residents of Charlevoix, Mich., who left Thursday on a trip to South Fox Island have not been heard from. Two Lutsen, Minn., fishermen, missing on Lake Superior, have been given up as lost.

Three deaths in Detroit were attributed to the cold wave. In Chicago four persons froze to death.

Train service in Wisconsin and Minnesota was still being delayed by heavy snow drifts. After bucking drifts for 48 hours, snowplows finally cleared the rails for the Chicago and Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Pacific railroads.

At Cedar Rapids, Ia., two small children of Mrs. George Scheilin were burned to death when fire destroyed their home. The mother, visiting a neighbor, was warned of the fire by a radio report but reached home too late to save the children. An overheated furnace was blamed for the fire.

PROMOTER FACES LONG PRISON TERMS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Martin A. Leach, Los Angeles promoter, faced long term prison sentences today following his conviction by a jury after 97 hours' deliberation on 11 counts of grand theft and 14 counts of violating the corporate securities act.

Leach, along with Frank Hurlburt, Ernest P. Hughes, C. H. Walker, C. W. Chestnut and Clarence Birney, faced 35 charges but acquittal were returned against all except Leach and Hurlburt. Hurlburt was found guilty on one count of grand theft.

Counsel for Leach will appear before Superior Judge Shaw Friday to present arguments for a new trial. The case had been on trial since October 15.

MARSHAL FOCH BATTLING FOR LIFE IN PARIS

Commander Allied Forces In World War Refuses To Admit Defeat

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Marshal Ferdinand Foch, his indomitable old spirit refusing to admit defeat, told his doctor today that he would resist death.

From his bed where he lies gravely stricken with heart disease, the commander-in-chief of all the allied armies at the close of the World war looked at Dr. Daveniere, one of the six physicians in attendance, and growled weakly:

"I am seriously hit, am I not? But I'll resist."

The aged warrior's fighting spirit seemed to have achieved at least a temporary victory over his illness, for this afternoon, Drs. Daveniere and Heitzboyer held a bedside consultation and left Foch's home saying the marshal was slightly improved. They are preparing to issue an official bulletin tonight.

Foch's condition at 2 p. m. was announced as stationary and unchanged since the noon bulletin, when a very slight amelioration was announced.

Pasteur institute tests are being made to determine the extent of the uraemia which has poisoned the marshal's system and complicated the situation caused by his weak heart.

All France is deeply concerned over his condition and a continuous procession came to the gates of the house near the Hotel Des Invalides today to inquire for news. They ranged from high government officials and ambassadors to humble ex-poilus.

Among those who came were Premier Raymond Poincare, Andre Tardieu and Gen. Lasson, from President Doumergue's official household; many foreign ambassadors and ministers, generals, priests, nuns and war veterans to whom the hero of the marine is still the master.

LIGHT RAIN FALLS ON PACIFIC SLOPE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Cold weather on the Pacific slope was broken by a rain which began falling early today. Only traces were reported to the weather bureau as a result of night precipitation.

Only in the plateau region of the far west was there any continuation of cold, with rains and snows predicted for parts of Nevada and Idaho.

Precipitation was due to halt tonight, with fair weather generally over California Wednesday.

HOOVER PLANS FLORIDA TRIP FOR SATURDAY

President-Elect Kept Busy Night and Day to Clear Up His Business

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—President-Elect Hoover still faced a long line of people today—with the end not yet in sight. He came here to stay a week or 10 days. He has been here 10 days today. It will be nearly two weeks by the time he leaves for Florida, the date of departure for Miami Beach now being set at Friday or Saturday.

Hoover returned to Washington to consider matters such as his cabinet and policies. Only to find that while these are important matters to him, there are other matters far more important to other people, such as who will be patronage boss in certain states, who will get this or that minor federal post.

He did not intend to be drawn into these things at this time but he has found it unavoidable. A conference with an important public figure often leads to another with a lesser light who happens to be a friend of a protege.

But Hoover seems to thrive upon it. He works early and late, but looks well. He takes no recreation, no exercise, sticking very close to the job. He gets amusement out of the numerous reports of cabinet selections that go out, almost daily.

Calmly, he listens to numerous recommendations about his cabinet but says nothing.

He has nearly completed his conferences with cabinet members and members of congress. Today he begins to turn his attention to state leaders who managed successful campaigns in their domains for his election.

Hoover informed Rep. Dallinger, Repn., Mass., today that he intends to push government department reorganization, agitated since the Harding administration,

URGES INCREASE IN RADIO CHANNELS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(UP)—A proposal that the present 40 clear radio channels be increased to 50 or 60 clear channels was made to the house merchant marine committee today by Commissioner O. H. Caldwel of the federal radio commission.

The proposal surprised the committee as several congressional critics have charged a "radio trust" had been created by allocating almost one-half of the cleared channels to chain stations.

Attorneys In Murder Case Matching Wits

Regular Panel Exhausted On Monday, New Venire Drawn Today

BULLETIN

A jury of 11 men and one woman emerged at 2:20 p. m. today as the group which will pass on the guilt or innocence of J. W. Montgomery, 55, accused of murdering Orlie R. Mahon and John D. Callicot, 40, Sunset Beach duck hunters, last November. Both prosecution and defense accepted the jury after almost a two-day struggle. Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodget indicated that the prosecution's statement of the case to the jury would be brief. The defense was expected to reserve its statement until it began to produce evidence, Defense Counsel B. Z. McKinney stated. Don Mozley, of the sheriff's office, was expected to be the first witness called.

The jury is composed of the following people:

Charles E. Copp, Theodore R. Meisenheimer, J. C. Rossman, I. E. Bown, Willis Maple, Henry Johnson, Mrs. Robert G. Horn, C. W. Riggle, R. H. Boney, Charles Burleycamp, Albert Hobbs and Abraham Pritchard.

AT NOON today the task of selecting a jury to try J. W. Montgomery, 55, for the killing of Orlie R. Mahon, 40, and John D. Callicot, 40, of Sunset Beach, was still under way in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court, with rival attorneys continuing to draw fire from each other in the form of objections to questions used in examining prospective jurors.

It was hoped that the jury would be complete early in the afternoon session and that the first witness would be placed on the stand before the day ended. The regular panel was exhausted yesterday and today a special venire of 30 was on hand.

Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodget and Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins will call Don Mozley, of the sheriff's office, as the first witness for the prosecution, it is expected. Mozley received Montgomery's telephone call from the California gun club after the former special officer had shot and killed the two hunters, who he said were poaching and had refused to leave the club property.

One of the first intimations that the trial will be fought at close quarters came yesterday afternoon when L. A. West, one of the defense attorneys, was questioning a prospective juror.

"You say you are from Maryland," the attorney remarked. "Then I suppose you can sing "Maryland, My Maryland," he said with a smile.

"I object to that question that it is facetious," Blodget hastily interposed. "Enough time has been wasted already by counsel on casual re-

Second Autopsy Performed On Mrs. Babe Ruth

WATERTOWN, Mass., Jan. 15.—(UP)—Second autopsy was performed today on the body of Mrs. "Babe" Ruth in an effort to confirm the belief that her death in a fire last Friday night was accidental and did not involve foul play.

Plans for the funeral of Mrs. Ruth, scheduled for today, were delayed pending a report on the second autopsy, which was conducted by Medical Examiner George L. West, assisted by Medical Examiner George B. McGrath.

GASOLINE WAR IN S. F. REACHES COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—(UP)—This city's gasoline war had reached the point today where it was beginning to appear in the courts.

Three operators of a service station were to appear in police court to face charges of operating without a permit.

According to James Hanley, president of the Service Station Dealers' association, more than 100 other stations are operating illegally in the city.

Despite the "war," San Francisco motorists were anything but troubled and continued to buy gas at 14 and 15 cents a gallon.

ROMANCE OF YEARS ENDS IN SHOOTING IN ROOMING HOUSE ON FOURTH STREET

Condition of Bodies Indicates That Couple May Have Been Dead Many Hours Before Discovery

REASON FOR ACT IS UNKNOWN

LYING side by side across a bed in his rooms at the Bristol Apartments, Fourth and Bristol streets, the bodies of John Edwin Shellabarger, 35, tire salesman and pretty Madonna Barbara Vickroy, 22, of 331 Normandy Place, were found by police officers at 4:30 o'clock last night, victims of a suicide pact or of a murder and a suicide, according to the findings of police and Coroner Charles D. Brown.

The girl had been shot through the head, the bullet entering the right temple. Shellabarger was shot through the mouth, and the pistol, a .32 calibre automatic, was found clenched tightly in his right hand, indicating that he had shot and killed the girl and then turned the weapon on himself.

The tragedy probably occurred late Saturday night, in the opinion of officers. The discovery was not made until yesterday when Mrs. LaVerne Katz, manager of the apartment house, detected an odor coming from the room. She called the police station and Officer Earl Lentz went to the house to make an investigation.

He used a pass key on the door and made the discovery. The police and coroner were called at once. The condition of the bodies, in the opinion of Coroner Brown and undertakers showed that the shooting had taken place probably 40 hours before the bodies were found.

There was no note found in the apartment and officers today were at a loss to determine the motive behind the shooting.

Investigation revealed that the couple had been sweethearts for some time, and it was learned at the New York Beauty College, Third and Sycamore streets, where Miss Vickroy was a student, that she was engaged to be married to Shellabarger, although no one knew whether a date for the wedding had been set. Shellabarger was a married man.

That both the man and the woman had been greatly worried during the past several days was gleaned from friends. Mrs. Katz stated that Shellabarger had been drinking heavily recently and friends of Miss Vickroy at the beauty college stated they felt that she also had been worried, although they had not seen her since last Friday, the last day she attended school. They were of the opinion that she went to Los Angeles Saturday, they said.

Coroner Brown learned, he said, that the girl was in Los Angeles Friday night and returned here Saturday. The Shellabarger automoile had been parked in the rear of the apartment building since Saturday night, it was said, indicating that the couple went to the apartment at that time for the last time.

From the condition of the apartment, Coroner Brown scouted the idea that the two had entered a suicide pact. He is of the opinion, he said, that Shellabarger killed the

STATE SENATE COMMITTEES NAMED TODAY

Forty Bodies Made Public By Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan This Morning

BY HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Only four days remain for the California state legislature to finish the work of its first session and yet the major issues of the session are not in sight.

These include:

1.—State water commission's report, which proposes to launch the state on a $350,000,000 co-ordinated water development program.

2.—State tax commission's measures, required to put the new 4 percent income tax on banks and business corporations adopted at the last election, into effect.

3.—Governor Young's governmental reorganization bills.

The crime commission's major program is now in the hands of the senate's committee on revision of criminal law and procedure. The bills were introduced by Senator C. C. Baker of Salinas, who is also slated to be appointed chairman of the committee.

Major changes in the state governmental system, as recommended in the governor's biennial message, are still to be presented.

These include measures to create four new departments—of penology, veterans and military affairs, investment regulation and vocational standards.

Only two reorganization measures have found their way to the house. One was introduced by the American Legion members of both houses, creating a state department of veterans and military affairs, and the other enlarging

GARNER ATTACKS SECRETARY MELLON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(UP)—A new attack on Secretary of Treasury Mellon was made in the house today by Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas.

He charged Mellon with making "secret tax refunds."

"Mr. Mellon has given out more than $2,600,000,000 in tax refunds, and credits in the last five years—an amount it would take one man 200 years or more to count," Garner said. "The secretary of treasury has refused to let the public know who has been given secret refunds."

REGISTER COOKING SCHOOL TO OPEN ONE WEEK FROM TODAY

Just one more week. Seven days. One hundred and sixty-eight hours. Ten thousand and eighty minutes. We are not going to go into the seconds. It would make it seem entirely too long to wait for the opening of the Second Annual Register Free Cooking school.

As it is, the opening hour next Tuesday afternoon, January 22, in Yost's Spurgeon street theater, seems much farther away when translated into terms of minutes, or even hours, so let's just say "One more week, and then we will be able to learn some more of those wonderful recipes, and gain those useful hints on household affairs, and have a chance at getting some of those remarkable prizes!"

Last year when The Register held its first Free Cooking School it established a record for modern culinary methods, entertainment, gift bestowals and general value to the housewives of Orange county, that would be hard to surpass. But an effort is being made to surpass it with the second annual event, which opening on January 22, will run for the next three afternoons, closing on Friday, January 25.

Miss Victoria Warner, said to be an expert among the experts, will conduct the classes, which will be preceded each afternoon by a short program featuring various Santa Ana artists. Miss Isabel Allobach, director of the home service department of the Southern Counties Gas company, will act as hostess as she did last year.

Experts Here To Make Study Of Flood Control Plans

ENGINEERS TO VISIT PROPOSED DAM LOCATIONS

Interest in Orange county's flood control and water conservation program rose to a new high point today with the arrival in this city of the board of three consulting engineers who will co-operate with Paul Bailey, in charge of this county's investigations on the Santa Ana river, in reviewing tentative plans for the huge project.

A. J. Wiley, of Boise, Ida., consulting engineer of the U. S. reclamation service, and Charles H. Paul, of Dayton, O., consulting engineer specializing on flood control and dam construction, were here today consulting with Bailey. F. C. Herrmann, of San Francisco, consulting engineer specializing in water supply, irrigation and flood control, was expected to arrive later today. This group was selected by the board of supervisors to assist Bailey in the final stages of this big task.

During the morning Bailey, Wiley and Paul went over the general material on the Santa Ana river investigation available in the flood control offices on North Sycamore street.

In the afternoon the group was to meet the board of supervisors, in session today, according to arrangements made public by Bailey. Later this afternoon or tomorrow the party was expected to go out to the field of the flood control investigations on the Santa Ana river and its tributaries.

The arrival of the group focused attention on the work which Bailey and his corps of assistants have been carrying on for months and gave rise to consideration as to the time when the final report on the investigations will be filed with the board of supervisors. Wiley, Herrmann and Paul will review the tentative plans here in detail, after which they will return to their homes and digest the information gained. Later they will come to Santa Ana again and the final report will be drafted for presentation to the board of supervisors. Upon the filing of the report and consideration of the results of the board, the way will be open for presentation of the project to the people.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver disgorge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills.

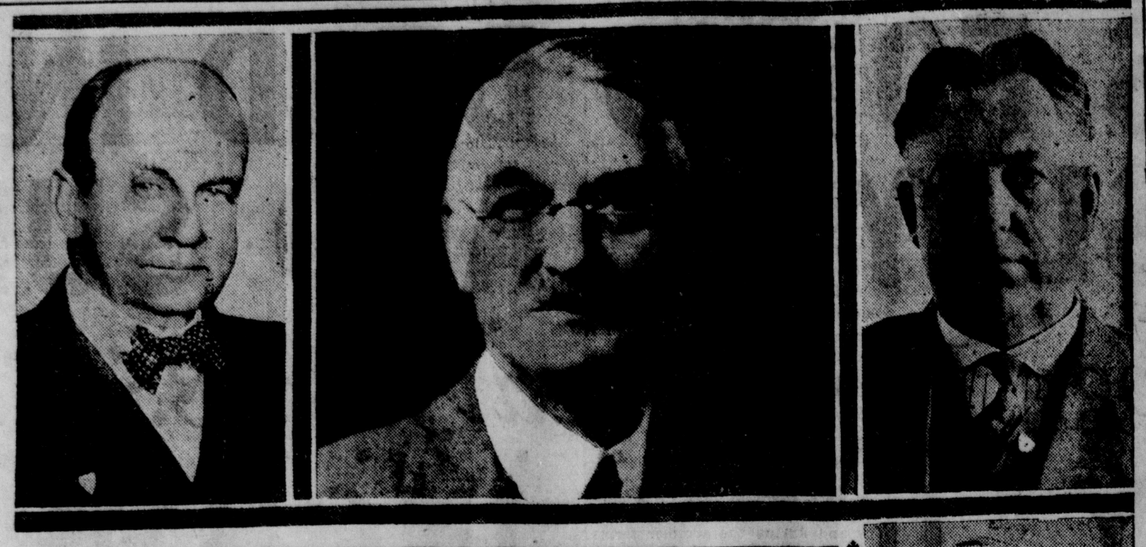

What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic like Plantlax to thoroughly cleanse the digestive system of all foul secretions and at the same time restore the torpid, lazy liver to proper working order. When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, sallow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

Plantlax is made from the juices of harmless medicinal plants — Nature's own remedies—that act in a mild, easy way without weakening or irritating the organs. Try it tonight. Large bottle $1 at any good drug store.

TO SELL FIFTY THAMES CANNON AS SCRAP IRON

LONDON, Jan. 14—(UP)—American tourists in London soon will miss the ancient cannons which have stood for years on the Thames embankment at the Tower of London.

There are fifty of them and they are being sold for scrap iron. So long have they remained on the side of the pathway that they have sunk deep into the ground.

According to officials of the Office of Works here, there is no special historical value attached to the guns.

They were "Fortress guns," made probably about 1870 for practice in England, and were not, it is believed, used in any war. A few of them were Russian.

The removal of these cannons still leaves a large number of historically valuable guns dotted along the river embankment.

For instance there is the gun which went down with the famous Royal George when she sank at Spithead in 1782, and which was recovered nearly fifty years later. Then there are cannons made in Henry VII's time, French guns built at the time of the Revolution, Russian guns and wierd old weapons for hurling stones through the air.

States for the outlawry of war.

The U. S. took the position such a treaty should be made multilateral.

Kellogg exchanged notes with the various powers and, last August, 27 plenipotentiaries assembled at Paris and signed the document, which does not outlaw war but merely renounces it.

The original signatories included: United States, Great Britain, Germany, Belgium, France, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, the Irish Free State, India, Italy, Japan, Poland and Czecho-Slovakia.

Since that date 44 other nations have subscribed to the treaty or have informed Kellogg of their intentions to do so.

No effort was made to get a vote on the Borah report in accordance with a gentleman's agreement made by the interested parties.

marks," he declared with feeling.

The jury was passed for cause by defense attorneys West and B. Z. McKinney at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. Blodget and Collins passed the jury for cause at 2:45 p. m.

Blodget announced at 10:40 a. m. today that he would pass the jury for peremptory challenges with the exception of one prospective juror who had just been called.

Attention was called today to the fact that Montgomery killed not one man but two in the affair at the gun club. Both defense and prosecution asked jurors if this fact would influence them one way or the other in judging the guilt or innocence of Montgomery. They replied that it would not. Possibility of Montgomery being found guilty on one count against him and innocent on the other thus was raised by counsel.

Eighteen prospective jurors had been excused by the defense, the prosecution and the court at 11 a. m. today. The prosecution had excused four for cause and the defense four. The people had used two peremptory challenges and the defense three. The court had excused four and by stipulation of counsel another had been excused.

At 11 a. m. 11 jurors were thought to be fairly certain of their positions although peremptory challenges on either side still were possible. Blodget apparently was satisfied with 11 jurors.

The appearance in court today of Buel Wood, Los Angeles attorney, recalled another murder trial of a year ago in which he defended Phillip A. Goodwin, charged with murdering J. J. Paterson, Los Angeles bond broker in 1926. Goodwin was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment at Folsom.

girl, probably while she was asleep, and then killed himself.

Breakfast food was found on the table in the kitchen indicating that the couple had eaten breakfast either Saturday or Sunday morning, probably the former.

Shellabarger had been a salesman for the Hood company for the past four years, with Orange county as his territory during the past two years. He has made his headquarters in Santa Ana only for the past six months, however, and during most of this time has maintained his apartment in the Bristol apartments.

Shellabarger, who was known to his customers throughout the county as J. E. Shelley, took the shorter name for business reasons, it was said. He was an ex-service man and his discharge from the army together with his government compensation was found among his effects. He has a wife, Clara Shellabarger, residing at 1714 Harrison Boulevard, Boise Ida. The couple had not been living together for the past several years, however. There were no children.

Shellabarger also has a mother, residing at 858 East Twenty-Fourth street, Portland, Ore., who, notified of the death of her son, wired the Hood company today that she was enroute to Santa Ana and asked that the body be held pending her arrival.

A note found in the apartment addressed to W. Huisveld and Sons, San Diego, gave some idea of the mental strain under which Shellabarger labored, although the note was not dated or signed. It read: "Am laid up with a gob of grief and may not be able to get down there until week after next."

The note stopped abruptly. It was written on the back of one of the company's order blanks. Whether it had any particular bearing on the case, officers could not say.

The room showed no signs of a struggle. The cover on the bed had been thrown back over the foot and the general order of the room was neat. A half gallon of wine was found on the kitchen sink, and a number of empty bottles were found in the apartment.

Miss Vickroy was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Vickroy, 331 Normandy Place and had been a student in the beauty college for the past six months. She was to graduate within the next two weeks, it was reported.

Both bodies were removed to the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors where Coroner Brown stated he probably would hold an inquest some time tomorrow. He was today awaiting further word from Shellabarger's relatives in Oregon before setting time for the inquest, he said.

Funeral services for Miss Vickroy will be held at the Smith and Tuthill Chapel Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced today.

the department of natural resources in its jurisdiction over beach and tidelands.

Action of Assemblyman Van Vernard's resolution for a $2,000,000 refrigeration terminal on the San Francisco waterfront was expected in the assembly today.

Consternation will reign in the ranks of professional lobbyists when Assemblyman Myron D. Witter of Brawley introduces his resolution that the legislature adopt the federal system of checking up on lobbying activities.

The resolution would require every lobbyist to file his expense account with his legislature, showing whom he entertained and when, how much he paid for the entertainment, and what he did. The bill might even go so far as to include bootleggers' charges, Witter said.

The measure is an outgrowth of the federal trade investigation at Washington, Witter explained, and is designed to "bring these lobbyists out in the open."

"California isn't likely to have as much trouble with the power trust as they had in the east," said Witter. "But I feel it is best to be prepared," he said.

The resolution would require attorneys brought to Sacramento to advise their clients to confine their activities to such legal advice or else register with the legislature as lobbyists.

California will never experience another tragedy like the St. Francis dam disaster, if the legislature adopts an administration measure to be introduced by Senator E. A. Mueller of San Diego. It would give the state supervision over all dams in the state, both private and municipally owned.

Ill feeling that has been brewing for months between the legislative farm bloc and the agricultural legislative committee, was expected to come to a head today as the executive body of the latter committee, which represents the big farm groups and co-operative associations, meets to consider farm bills.

The two organizations have come to a parting of the ways over two measures—the proposed state trademark and the socalled "sack bill." The former would permit a state seal of certification on all California products, and the latter protect grain growers from loss of revenue resulting when commission men deduct the weight of the sack from the grain bought.

Investigation of Folsom and San Quentin prisons and the prison road camps, as proposed by San Francisco assemblymen as the session closed yesterday, was being widely discussed today. It is only one of a series of bills aimed at the state board of prison directors.

"Light a Lucky and you'll never miss sweets that make you fat"

Constance Talmadge

Constance Talmadge, Charming Motion Picture Star

INSTEAD of eating between meals . . instead of fattening sweets . . . beautiful women keep youthful slenderness these days by smoking Luckies. The smartest and loveliest women of the modern stage take this means of keeping slender . . . when others nibble fattening sweets, they light a Lucky!

Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. These tobaccos are toasted—a costly extra process which develops and improves the flavor. That's why Luckies are a delightful alternative for fattening sweets. That's why there's real health in Lucky Strike. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

For years this has been no secret to those men who keep fit and trim. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. They know that Lucky Strike is the favorite cigarette of many prominent athletes, who must keep in good shape. They respect the opinions of 20,679 physicians who maintain that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

CITY ATTORNEY SAYS PAVING TO BE PROTESTED

Another court battle looms in connection with the opening and paving of Sycamore street from Washington avenue, according to intimation by City Attorney C. D. Swanner at the meeting last night of the city council.

The city attorney advised the council that money to pay damages awarded in the street opening proceedings had been deposited with the court and that property owners having claims could present them at the office of the county clerk and get their money. The fund approximates $24,000, which the property owners will have to pay through a tax levy.

The occasion for the statement of the legal advisor was offered when the city council opened discussions on improving the street by laying pavement, sidewalks, water and gas lines and, possibly, conduits across possible intersections to provide for installation of an ornamental lighting system in the future.

"I have been told by the attorney representing the property owners in the district created for the opening of the street that they will present more than a 50 per cent protest against paving," Swanner told the solons, and he intimated that the owners would go the limit to prevent such improvement at this time.

The council virtually declared it would override such a protest and proceed with the improvement. The city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications for the work. Discussions as to the probable cost of the opening and improvement of the street brought a statement from City Engineer Clyde Jenken that the cost would approximate $14 a front foot or $700 for a 50-foot lot.

Members of the council commented on the necessity for immediate paving of the new thoroughfare to make it available to traffic. It also was pointed out that the city is to build its new fire station on the street.

George Wells, chairman of the city planning commission, introduced the subject of improvement by requesting that the council take action at once. He suggested a setback line and the governing body agreed to a 15-goot line. The pavement will be five inches thick.

COMMUNITIES PARTICIPATING IN JOINT SEWER PROGRAM PLAN INSTALLATION OF CHLORINATORS

That the communities participating in the joint outfall sewer program are considering plans for installation of chlorinators for treatment of sewage in the various lines entering the main outfall was revealed at the meeting of the city council, last night, by Councilman J. L. McBride, Santa Ana member of the joint outfall executive committee.

Chlorination of sewage will eliminate objectionable odors along the line and at the ocean outlet, it was said by McBride, who based his statement on claims made by the state health department.

The representative also disclosed that R. F. Goudey, sanitary engineer in the Los Angeles district for the state board of health, had recommended installation of the machines.

Recommendation is made for at least four machines, to be installed on sewer lines leading into the main line.

Machines suggested for three points in the north would cost $1400 each, while it is suggested that larger equipment be placed in the Santa Ana line, to cost $1700. The cost of chlorine for the Santa Ana machine would average about $4 a day, it was estimated.

McBride said that in addition to elimination of odors, chlorination had the further value of neutralizing sulphuric acid, which attacks the pipe through which the sewage passes.

"Complete elimination of odors at the ocean end of the outfall would justify the expense, to say nothing of the preservation of the pipelines that would follow use of chlorine," McBride said, in discussing the proposal with the council. No action was taken by the council for the matter is one to be handled by the executive committee.

It was pointed out that use of chlorinators would stop complaints that are frequently made concerning the odor at the ocean end of the outfall.

AUDIENCE OF OVER 500 HEARS LOWELL THOMAS TELL OF HIS EXPERIENCES IN AFGHANISTAN

"Through Romantic India into Forbidden Afghanistan" was the strange journey taken last night by approximately 500 Santa Ana men and women, who were conveyed on their travels by the magic tongue and personality of that prince of entertainers, Lowell Thomas, world traveller, trained observer, soldier and lecturer. His audience was made up of Ebell women, their husbands, families and friends, for Lowell Thomas was brought to Santa Ana as the January entertainment feature of the Ebell society.

India itself was pictured as a land of remarkable romance by the speaker, who told of how he had expected to gain a comprehensive view of the country and its peoples in a few months, but had remained for two years and traversed 60,000 miles through little known sections of the world. At the end of the two years, he had obtained permission to enter "Forbidden Afghanistan" and in describing his travels there, showed some of the most remarkable motion pictures ever seen in Santa Ana.

India's dense population will be better understood by those who saw the pictures and at the same time they will understand the difficulties besetting the path of the traveller who secured them and his strange adventures in Persia, Baluchistan, the lovely Vale of Kasmir, Turkistan and other strange and remote places of central Asia.

Caucasian Features

In his accompanying talk, Thomas pointed out that while the natives of Afghanistan were as dark skinned as those of Africa, they had the exceedingly fine features of the Caucasian race, lacking the thick-set lips and broad noses of the Negroid peoples.

"India is divided into 2000 water-tight compartments by the caste system," commented the speaker with one of his frequent flashes of humor, as he explained the gradation of caste from the Brahmans down lower and lower to the final outcasts, who are considered utterly beyond the pale. It was for their work among these hopeless outcasts that he particularly lauded the Christian missionaries of India.

Another strange condition described was that obtaining among the 14,000,000 born criminals of India. For the "criminal tribes" are a recognized feature, each specializing in its particular form of crime, whether it be purloining clothing, stealing the golden ear ornaments from women of the jewelled nose ornaments of other tribes—and training its children in its own particular brand of thievery.

These tribes are a great national problem, but one which the Salvation Army has asked to be allowed to help solve, he declared, and stated that the Army is already at work on the children in an effort to see what may be accomplished.

Facts about India which other travellers have brought home, until they are familiar to all, were given new significance by the speaker's brilliant descriptions, understanding of values and the remarkable pictures. The Ganges river, with its natives bathing in and drinking the water at the same time, the funeral ghats, the famous Tower of Silence of the high-class Parsees were horrifying but fascinatingly interesting.

But it was when describing the lesser known interior of Afghanistan, and his wild ride through the Khyber Pass, the "narrow funnel between the rich plains of India and the wilds of Afghanistan," that the greatest interest was aroused. "Afghanistan is the buffer state between the Soviet government in Asia and the British in India," he explained, and hinted of the dire possibilities at a turn of the tide that goes sweeping through the pass.

Great Wealth Seen

The wealth of those countries was hinted in the magnificent equipment of the native princes, one picture showing the Prince of Wales and his host, the native ruler, riding on a marvelously caparisoned elephant in a howdah made of pure beaten gold. "While we poor accompanying travellers had to be satisfied in howdahs made only of beaten silver!" explained the speaker. The elephant trains were long, with dozens of the great beasts, each with rich trappings.

Glimpses followed of Lucknow, "the only place on earth where the Union Jack floats both night and day;" the famous Grand Trunk road known to all lovers of Kipling's "Kim;" Benares, Calcutta, and finally what was characterized as a "birdseye view of the intellect of 80 per cent of the Indian people," their worship of the Car of Juggernaut.

To give a more pleasant ending to his talk, Thomas closed with a description of the Taj Mahal, giving an idea of its unearthly beauty by moonlight with his unusual views of it.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, announced today the appointment of Dr. Elizabeth Tock, now of San Diego, as director of the laboratory in the Orange County hospital, to succeed Dr. A. L. Thompson, whose resignation was announced a few days ago. Dr. Sutherland informed the board of supervisors, at the opening of its session, today, of the appointment of Dr. Tock.

Dr. Thompson's resignation will take effect on March 1, when Dr. Tock will take up active work.

Dr. Tock is a graduate of the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania, having completed her work there in 1923. She specialized in pathology and bacteriology and during the summer terms she worked in the pathological department of the university.

After her graduation she spent one year in a medical school near Delhi, India, where she taught pathology and gained experience in tropical pathology. On her return to this country she spent two years in the Mendocino state hospital in charge of the laboratory and x-ray work. She passed second highest in the state civil service examinations on pathology, according to Dr. Sutherland. Dr. Tock for the last two years has been in charge of the laboratory in the county hospital in Morgantown, W. Va.

She decided, however, that she wished to return to California. She arrived in San Diego about Christmas time and has been visiting relatives there.

A verdict of accidental death was rendered by a coroner's jury impaneled for the purpose of determining the cause of the death of Mrs. Grace Shellington, 23, young matron of Huntington Beach, fatally injured in an automobile accident near Buena Park last Friday. The inquest was held at the Seale undertaking parlors in Fullerton yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Shellington's machine was struck by a truck driven by Ray Patton, 136 Yale street, Fullerton, at the intersection of the Lincoln boulevard and Buena Park road at Harding. The truck was owned by S. H. Finley. Patton was exonerated of all blame by the jury. Mrs. Shellington was said to have turned directly in front of the truck. The woman's chest was crushed.

Mrs. Shellington was taking Bennie Young and Stanley Wells, of Huntington Beach, friends of the family to Young's car, which had been wrecked. Both men were oil workers employed at the same place as Mrs. Shellington's husband, Roy F. Shellington. Mrs. Shellington had been employed at the Golden Bear cafe in Huntington Beach for the past three years.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Dixon Funeral home. Interment will be made in Central Memorial Park.

COUNCIL HITS PLAN OF SCHOOL FUND FOR MARKING SHRUBS IN PARK; ORDERS WOODEN PLATES

The city council last night served notice that it is not necessary to raise money in the schools of the city for the creation of a fund with which to place name-plates on the trees and shrubbery in Birch park.

Such a fund now is being collected in the grade schools and it is proposed to use the money in the buying and installation of enamel plates for identifying the trees by name.

Council members expressed disapproval of the enamel plates and directed the city manager to have wooden markers placed on the plants at once.

The opinion was expressed that the enamel would crack and break, with the result that the markers in a short time would be disgraceful in appearance. Objection also was made on the ground that replacement of an individual enamel marker would be costly.

Order Lighting Plans

Following the filing of a letter by H. D. Johnson, of the Western Lighting company, stating that it had been impossible to interest a sufficient number of property owners in an ornamental lighting system on Second and Ross streets, the council directed that the engineering department proceed with plans for installing ornamental lights on Third, betwene Broadway and Ross, and on Birch, between Third and Fourth streets. The council had suggested to the lighting company that effort be made to include Second and Ross in the improvement program.

The president of the board and the secretary were authorized to sign an agreement with the Pacific Electric company protecting the company against acquisition of right-of-way property on Maple street by its continued use for street purposes. The agreement provides that the company remove posts and a fence placed at various points along its line south of Chestnut street to stop traffic over its right-of-way. A check was received from the company for $310.31 as tax on one of its franchises in the city.

The Gilbert - Weston - Stearns company was granted permission to locate a garage repair shop in the building on the northeast corner of Sycamore and Second streets.

Protest Sustained

A protest to the proposed closing of Pine street, between Baker and Bristol, was sustained. The street has not been opened and for the time being it will be a street on paper only.

The city attorney was directed to confer with the proprietor of a service station at First and Cypress with reference to a change in a neo nsign on the station. It is asserted that the angle of the sign is such as to throw a reflection on automobiles that creates a hazard to cars entering First street from Cypress. It is said the reflection hits the glass in the right door of an enclosed automobile in such a way that a driver cannot see a car on First street approaching from the east. It was said that a change in the angle of the sign would eliminate the risk.

Asserting that her husband had deserted her on January 8, taking all the food from the ice box of their home, and removing the only bed they had to sleep in, Ruble Kelsay today brought suit for divorce against Lloyd Kelsay, in which she declared that she had been left destitute with two children and no means of support.

In 1925, when she was 16 years old, Mrs. Kelsay eloped with her husband, according to the complaint. She alleged that he immediately began a course of cruel treatment and that he called her suggestive names because, as she is alleged to have said, she was an orphan and no one knew who her parent were.

Several times, the complaint stated, the couple had separated. Each time Kelsay pleaded with his wife to agree to resumption of their married life, promising her to change his conduct, according to the complaint. However, each time he forgot his promises and again subjected Mrs. Kelsay to alleged cruel treatment, the complaint said. She asks custody of the two children and $75 a month for their support.

Orange Constable Leaves For Yuma To Get Prisoner

George Bartley, constable in Orange, left here last night for Yuma, Ariz., where Robert Thrlow, 25, Chicago, who is wanted in Orange on charges of grand theft and robbery, is being held.

Thorlow was arrested in Yuma after Bartley had sent officers there a telegram asking that he be held should he be located in that city. The police there had had the telegram only a few minutes when Thorlow put in his appearance and was arrested, it was said.

According to Bartley, Thorlow stole a coupe owned by Mary Gilchrist, Orange, which had been stored in a garage where Thorlow had been employed. He also rifled the cash register in the garage of approximately $25 before leaving the city, Bartley said.

Bartley remembered that Thorlow lived in Chicago and reasoned that he probably would start for that city via Yuma, he said.

L. W. Schauer gave a financial report of the chamber and suggested a budget for the year.

Taxes on the library property were discussed at length by various members of the organization. This discussion resulted in placing the matter in the hands of the finance committee.

The following committee was appointed to take charge in the dinner in honor of the volunteer fire department and water board: G. R. Reyburn, S. C. Oertly, A. W. Schweiger and Wayne Holt. The dinner will be served in the Legion hall Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock by the auxiliary.

J. M. Woodworth and S. C. Oettly reported on the new lighting system.

F. M. Reafsnyder and S. C. Oertly reported favorable progress on the storm drainage system.

Dr. C. C. Violett moved that the offer of the American Legion for the use of the hall for meetings be accepted.

THE RIGHT WAY TO BANISH FAT

Combat a cause which modern research has discovered. Turn food into fuel and energy, rather than into fat. Supply a natural element which your system lacks. That is the method embodied in Marmola prescription tablets.

People have used Marmola for 20 years—millions of boxes of it. They have told others the results. Now, in almost every circle, you can see the results in new beauty and new vim. Why not learn the way to attain them?

A book in each box of Marmola tells you the formula, also the reasons for results. You will know why the effects come, and why they are beneficial. Go ask your druggist—in fairness to yourself—for a $1 box of Marmola.

S. A. CONCERNS' BIDS ACCEPTED BY H. H. BOARD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 15—The bid of the Gilbert-Weston-Stearns company, Santa Ana, for the wiring of the ornamental electric sign bearing the name of the city, the arches supporting it, and the traffic signal, to be erected at Main street and Ocean avenue, was accepted by the city council at a special session last night. The bid was $620.

The bid of S. Hill and Son, Santa Ana, for the electric sign was accepted for $648.50. The sign will be 40 feet in length, the letters having a heighth of over one foot.

The $312.50 bid of the E. D. Buller company, Los Angeles, for the traffic signal was accepted by the city board.

Acting upon the advice of City Engineer Merwin Rosson, all bids for the steel work were rejected as being too high. New bids are asked for and must be in the hands of the city clerk by the council meeting set for February 4.

The bids on the concrete work were rejected, as Rosson stated that the city was able to do the work cheaper than the lowest bidder for the work.

It is probable that work on the project will start about the first of March.

All other business before the council was referred until the regular meeting, January 20.

NEW BOAT PLANNED FOR NEWPORT BAY

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 14.—J. A. Beek, E. G. Sherman, Mark Johnson, G. Eastman, Don Douglas, George Colman and F. Robinson have interested themselves in bringing out a new design of boat for use in the bay that will give more comfort than those now in use here, yet still be fast enough to be desirable from a racing standpoint.

The type finally decided on is a centre-board craft, 16 feet over all with about 13.5 foot waterline. Full bows and ample quarters will allow her to carry the 150 square feet of sail handily, and at the same time accommodate six persons seated in the cockpit.

It was desired to assure a design which could be built for $500 that would be fast, and could be used as a step between the snow-bird and the star class.

Charles Mower has been consulted as to the plans for the final workout of the proposed "skimmer."

Clapp declared that the bandits overlooked $150 in cash and a valuable diamond which he slipped behind the seat as he was being forced to stop. Clapp was found unconscious by a passing motorist.

Both men were young and neatly dressed, Clapp told officers.

SECRETARY TO BE NAMED BY H. B. CHAMBER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 15.—President A. H. Dixon has called a special meeting of the chamber of commerce board of directors for Friday night to select a new secretary and treasurer.

It was agreed at yesterday's meeting to dispense with the salaried office of assistant secretary and the honorary office of secretary in favor of one salaried secretary, who will spend all his time engaged in the chamber business. Many members favor the selection of a capable man from outside the city. Mrs. May Jackson, present assistant secretary, and L. C. Denslow, present secretary, are candidates. The position of treasurer will remain an honorary one.

It was voted to continue holding meetings every Monday noon at the Golden Bear cafe. All interested townspeople and chamber members are invited to attend these meetings, as it is the intention of the new board of directors to make them open meetings.

H. R. Lacabanne, official of the Huntington Beach company, addressed the organization on "Community Co-operation."

PLANNING FOR COUNTY LAGUNA BEACH SUBJECT

PLACENTIA, Jan. 15.—Thomas E. Pickerill, secretary of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the planning committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county, was speaker at a dinner sponsored by the Lions club of Laguna each last night.

The subject of Pickerill's address was "The Value of a Planning Committee to Orange County."

"A planning commission for Orange county will point out future needs in conservation, not only for natural advantages, but for water conservation, airports, and other material uses for future generations," Pickerill declared.

"The greatest value of a county plan is not in the personnel of the commission, but in the fact that the master plan when completed will spring from the hearts and ambitions of the people, and have the force of law and prestige of common consent behind it.

"Efficient as our county officers may be, their terms of office are temporary at best. Any plan which they might develop in practical effect dies when they go out of office. The new administration comes in with a new plan. The result is, the county may have a series of plans which, even if they had the backing of legal authority, would seldom be consummated or brought to a practical conclusion.

"I am not speaking of men, but of government. I am not speaking of the faults of the past ,but of the possibilities of the future. Orange county needs a harmonious plan for future years. Much of our development in residential property is now outside of incorporated areas. There is a need of restricting pet ambitions of men for the general good and tying together the plans of the different communities for the general good of the county. Such an opportunity has been laid before us by the state legislature through the planning act of 1927, and it would be a wise move to inaugurate county planning under its provisions."

Following Pickerill's address, Norman M. Blaney, of Santa Ana, secretary-manager of the Orange County Farm bureau, gave the farm organization's viewpoint of the planning proposal.

The Lions clubs of the county have been active in supporting the movement for county planning, several of the individual clubs already having joined in asking the board of supervisors to appoint a planning body under the state act.

A short musical program included vocal numbers by Maurice Phillips, of Santa Ana, with Mrs. Pearl Livesey as his accompanist; two solos were sung by Mrs. J. O. Chilgon, who was accompanied by Mrs. Schwanovsky. Mrs. Schwankovsky also played two piano solos. Both of the latter are from Laguna Beach. A number of visitors were present.

SCHOOL CLINIC IN FULLERTON ON WEDNESDAY

FULLERTON, Jan. 15.—Plans were announced today for a series of immunization clinics in the Fullerton grammar schools, according to R. E. Green, principal, following a conference with Dr. K. M. Sutherland, county health officer.

A survey revealed that there were 276 cases of diphtheria during 1928, resulting in 21 deaths.

According to Dr. Sutherland, children and adults can be protected against diphtheria by inoculation with toxin anti-toxin in a course of three injections, which are given at intervals of one week.

The first of a series of such clinics will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. at the Ford avenue school. A doctor from the county health department, assisted by Miss Lydia Koontz, school nurse, and Miss Mary Simpson, local nurse for the county health department, will direct the work. The inoculations will be free.

No inoculations will be given without the consent of parents of the child and they are not compulsory, according to Dr. Sutherland. Children of pre-school age will also be given treatment at that time, if accompanied by their parents.

STILL DOUGH THERE—

"Strangler" Lewis got $50,000 the other night for defending his heavyweight title against Gus Sonnenburg in Boston. It may have been worth only passing notice to record that Lewis was beaten and that his belt was awarded to the former Dartmouth football star.

It is of more interest, though, to see the evidence that there is still important money in an old racket that had gradually declined in the recent years when all other classes of sport were in the real big money.

The Strangler's purse was a lot of money for Boston where the customers are more exacting than they are in New York and Chicago. In addition to the Strangler's end the promoters paid Sonnenberg $8000 and cleared abou $20,000 for themselves.

BIG FELLOWS MADE IT

Even in the days of its greatest popularity—and it once was a popular sport—wrestling never drew the money that second-class boxing did and, of course, it couldn't pay the wrestlers the kind of purses that boxers got.

But wrestling has been a very profitable trade to a number of the ranking stars.

Joe Stecher made about three-quarters of a million dollars when he was the champion and he estimated the title to be worth $200,000 a year. Lewis must be worth at least a half-million dollars, or, he must have earned that much as he has been in and out of the title for more than ten years. The loss fo his title will effect his income, of course, but he will still be a card.

GUS SHOULD DO WELL

Sonnenberg ought to make plenty. He apparently has made wrestling a major sport around Boston and has attracted a lot of college men to the game. He has a lot of color and his tactics have introduced something new into the business.

The body scissors hold made a drawing card out of Stecher and Lewis' headlock got him plenty of publicity. The new butting attack of Sonnenberg's ought to be a panic with the customers.

Throwing himself across the ring, as the football boys do when they are making a flying tackle, Sonnenberg rams his head into his opponent's stomach and something has to give. Usually it is the stomach.

Wayne Munn started a fad on Lewis several years ago when he picked him up and threw him bodily out into the fourth row of the ringside seats. He slammed him on the floor a couple of times and Lewis had enough.

The butting attack of Sonnenberg caught Lewis without a defense and all he could do was to get out of the ring when Sonnenberg charged at him and he was out of the ring so much that the referee disqualified him.

Lewis protested, of course, but he had made the mistake of putting up his belt before the contest and Sonnenberg had it before he could get back into the ring.

All of which will not hurt the chances of a return match.

JOHNSON LAUDS SAN CLEMENTE TRAINING CAMP

Exhibition games with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs as well as the Portland Beavers, who will train in Santa Ana, and the Hollywood Stars, who will get in shape at San Diego, will be played at the San Clemente training camp of the Seattle Indians if Ernie Johnson, manager, can possibly arrange them.

Johnson, an Orange county resident so long that Orange county now claims him as one of its own, said so today following a thorough inspection tour of the beautiful baseball plant which Founder Ole Hanson and other Spanish Village executives have laid out.

Johnson is no rookie in the baseball business. During his colorful career he has worked out in more than a score of training camps but he said it had been a long time since he had seen one the equal of San Clemente's.

"With perhaps one or possibly two exceptions," Johnson said, "I do not believe any club, major or minor will have a spring camp to equal the one the Indians will use. The field is protected by hills from ocean breezes. Construction of the diamond is such that it sheds water easily and the grassed infield and outfield should do away with early season leg injuries."

Ernie Johnson

The club will use the San Clemente Beach club, located but a block from the field, as a clubhouse. Here the telegraph office will be located from which the newspapermen will tell the world of the progress of the Indians. Besides the beach club the players have a five-mile beach, bridle paths and horses and low rolling hills to aid them in conditioning themselves for the season.

Johnson said he was well satisfied with hotel conditions as well as Travaglini's cafe where the Indians will eat.

The new boss said that he will attend the Pacific Coast league meeting in Los Angeles next week and at that time a schedule of spring training camp games will be announced. He stated that although it had been announced that training would start on February 25 he believed that the Tribe would swing into action a week earlier.

Coach Clyde Cook's Class C basketball squad will have two workouts with the local junior high schools this week, Julia C. Lathrop playing tonight and Frances E. Willard coming tomorrow, both games being scheduled for Andrews gymnasium.

Coach Ferris Scott's Spartans will probably beat the "Cees," although Cook will send his strongest lineup into the game. He will use a different set of players for the Willard srtuggle. The Saints take n Whittier at Whittier Friday night.

Chavez Gets License; To Fight Friday

Zenaydo Chavez, of Santa Ana, one-time welterweight champion of the Western Amateur Athletic association, has been licensed as a professional by the California state boxing commission and will make his debut as such at the Orange County Athletic club Friday night. He will oppose Lennie Reyes, of Roverside, who also is just entering on a career as a pro with a sensational amateur record.

Chavez, however, will not start in his accustomed place as a main eventer. He will have to work his way up to that place, the Chavez-Reyes match being scheeduled as the third preliminary.

"Red" Humphries and Kid Caballero, 122-pounders, will meet in the main event this week. Freddie Hawkins and "Chick" Peralta, lightweights, will meet in the semi-windup. Joe Goedders will box "Bud" Baker. Frankie Boldt gets Johnny Martinez and Eddie Benson goes against James Middlebrooks.

TOMMY ARMOUR SECOND, DIEGEL THIRD IN OPEN

By DUANE HENNESSY

RIVIERA COUNTRY CLUB, LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., came in one stroke ahead of Leo Diegel, of Agua Caliente, to win second money in the final play of the Los Angeles $10,000 Open golf tournament here yesterday.

Armour's card of 291 for 72 holes earned him $1750. Apparently assured of the $3500 first prize when he started the last 36 holes Sunday with a 7-stroke lead over the field, he cracked badly during the play and went down before the steady driving and putting of MacDonald Smith of Great Neck, L. I.

Smith finished Sunday and clinched first money with 285, winning the championship for the second consecutive year. Darkness forced Armour and 10 other leaders to quit play on the last two holes.

Armour would have had 289 had he shot par golf on the last hole, but his ball landed in a tree trench, and he was forced to lift out with a one-stroke penalty. He took six for the par four hole.

Diegel, with a final card of 292, took third money of $875, edging in ahead of Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., who received $600. Smith finished Sunday with 294.

George Von Elm, Detroit amateur, tied with Smith by shooting the 18th hole in par four, but lost fourth money because of his amateur standing.

Bobby Cruickshank, of Purchase, N. Y., and Eddie Loos of Pasadena, Calif., tied with cards of 298 turned in Sunday. They divided fifth of $400 and sixth of $300, getting $350 each.

Billy Burke, of Port Chester, N. Y., who finished with 300 Sunday, was tied by Frank Walsh, of Appleton, Wis., and Ed Dudley, of Los Angeles yesterday. Splitting seventh money of $250, eighth of $200 and ninth of $175. They won $208.33 each.

GARDEN OFFICIALS MAY STAGE MIAMI BEACH CONTEST RATHER THAN ADMIT LACK OF COURAGE

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The proposed Jack Sharkey-Young Stribling bout appeared more likely today, to take place at Miami Beach, Fla., February 27, as planned by Tex Rickard, than at any time since the late promoter's death.

The desire of the officials of Madison Square Garden to go through with the bout, even at a possible loss, rather than admit they lacked the courage to attempt it has prompted them to dispatch William F. Carey, the millionaire contractor who has temporarily assumed Rickard's place, to Miami Beach to assist Jack Dempsey in early preparations. Carey will leave tonight.

According to Col. John S. Hammond, acting general manager of the Garden, no contracts actually have been signed for the bout. Sharkey signed a provisional contract calling for a guarantee said to be $100,000 when Carey and Dempsey visited Boston last Saturday. This contract will not become binding until approved by the board of directors of Madison Square Garden.

Stribling has not signed a contract, but the Georgia boy is so anxious to get into the ring with Sharkey that he is ready to sign at any time for a guarantee of 20 per cent of the gate.

Lionel Levy, the architect who designed the seating arrangements for Rickard at Philadelphia, Chicago, and the two New York ball parks, left last night for Miami Beach to draw up plans for building temporary seats to handle a crowd of 40,000 at the Miami Beach dog track, where the bout is to be held.

Orders for seats already have started to come in, according to Col. Hammond, who said he had personally received 400 orders for ringside seats. Dempsey was reported to have received orders for 200 at Miami Beach. Prices range from $5 to $25.

IT'S ALL OVER FOR JOHNNY AND ETHEL

The farewell appearance of Johnny Weismuller and Ethel Lackie as members of the famed Illinois Athletic club swimming team was made recently when these two aquatic stars gave a final exhibition match. It was a sad day for Bill Bachrach, coach, at the right, below, who handled the two stars as youngsters and then saw them to rise to worldwide fame. C. F. Biggert, president of the athletic club, is shown here, at left, presenting Weismuller with a watch as a fond remembrance of his services. Miss Lackie, as you probably know, is the young lady in the photo.

Two conference basketball games will keep Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college wafters out of mischief this week, the first one being scheduled for Andrews gymnasium here tomorrow night with Glendale and the second at Compton Saturday evening with the Tartars.

The Dons got off to a disappointing start in the conference race but are hopeful of better things in the games to come. Eight more games are on the Santa Ana schedule and it is still within the realm of possibilities for Foote's floor men to win the championship, or at least finish one-two.

Last night the Santa Anans defeated Hawley's All-Star team, 21 to 19, after a hard battle and five minutes of extra time. The town club was in much better form than in the previous game and Foote, after starting some of his substitutes, was forced to send in his first string men. At the end of the regular game both sides had 18 points. After a two-minute rest, an extra five minutes was played and the Dons were able to annex three points while they held the All-Stars to one lone free throw.

Foote delayed sending in his first string until it was evident that the team he had in was incapable of holding the sporting goods foe. It was not until the second half when the junior college five was trailing by a matter of some five points that Foote sent in his regulars and they were able to overcome the lead and assume the lead themselves. At one time the Dons were six points ahead but before the final gun Schuhardt was able to cage a couple of long shots and Labrucherie got a short one to tie the count.

The score:

Santa Ana (21)		(19) Hawley Stars

HEYDLER ABOUT TO BEGIN 11TH YEAR AS PREXY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The National baseball league is about to launch its eleventh season under the leadership of President Jonh A. Heydler.

Heydler, one of the many colorful figures connected with the National pastime, is the eighth man to hold the presidency of the senior circuit, in its 53 years of existence.

He assumed the office in 1918 after John K. Tener resigned, and is starting a new four year term as executive director of the league.

Morgan G. Buckley, one time governor of Connecticut, was the first president of the National, holding that office in 1876. He was succeeded by William Hulbert who served until 1882. The third president was A. G. Mills who served in 1883 and 1884, followed by Nick Young who led the league for 18 years—longer than any other man.

It was Young who introduced Heydler to the executive offices for the two were warm personal friends. He brought the present president into his staff and taught him the quirks of directing a major league. Heydler remained on the staff after 1903 when Young was succeeded by Harry C. Pullman, and after Pullman died in July 1909, Heydler assumed the acting presidency and filled the chair for the remainder of the year.

Thomas J. Lynch was elected to a four year term, succeeding Heydler, and Tener succeeded him in 1913. Six years later Heydler returned to the chair, this time as the elected president, and he has held the position since.

Heydler began his career as a printer and followed with a brief career on the stage. Turning to sports, he played baseball for a time and then became a sports writer. It was while writing sports that he gained the friendship of Young.

From sports writer Heydler turned to statistics and spent some time as a baseball statistician. He also tried his ability as an umpire before accepting Young's invitation to join his staff

Fresh from a hard battle with the Long Beach Stars yesterday, the Santa Ana Class B basketball team was to meet the Pomona high school middleweights in a practice game at Pomona this afternoon as a curtain raiser to the varsity game.

Coach Clyde Patton's heavyweights were to take the floor at 3:45 o'clock after the "B" struggle. His team was defeated by Long Beach last Friday and his squad neds some tough scrimmage before the net Coast Preparatory league fracas with Whittier Friday at Whittier. The Poets were barely nosed out, 18 to 16, by Pasadena, and are sure to be dangerous. Pomona is rated high in the Citrus Belt league and will give the Saints a hard workout.

Coach Bill Cook's "Bees" lost to the Long Beach Stars, 36 to 25, but the defeat was no disgrace as he used every man on the squad at one time or another. The second string played the first quarter and left the score behind, 11 to 3, Homan having a basket and Thornhill a foul. The regulars played the next quarter and held the beach city boys to one basket but couldn't find the hoop themselves so the half ended, 13 to 5.

As the Long Beach boys were all of varsity classification, and had several years ofc ompetition, the next set of local players was no match for them and the score rose to 27 to 9 by the end of the third period. The Saint string then entered the game and nearly pulled it out of the fire. With Lindley and Herren finding the hoop, the Saints pulled up to within seven points of the leaders but could get no farther.

The lineup:

Santa Anans Make Points At Stanford

Allan ("Sonny") McDermott and Gerald ("Pete") Twist, both of Santa Ana, figured in the first inter-squad track and field meet of the season held at Stanford university by Coach A. L. ("Dink") Templeton, himself a former local boy.

McDermott, regarded as one of the Cardinals' best bets in the sprints, won the 220 yard dash in 22 4-10 seconds, excellent time for this early in the season. He also was third in the 100 yard dash, which was won in 10 3-10 seconds. McDermott was not known as a sprinter during his career in high school here. He did some broad jumping but was better known for his football ability, having played end on "Chuck" Winterburn's great 1925 eleven.

Twist, formerly of high school and junior college athletic fame here, took third in the 220 yard low hurdles, which were won in 26 seconds.

JIMMIE RIVERS OFFERED MATCH ONCE DECLINED

TEX RICKARD'S LIFE STORY

Following is "The Life of Tex Rickard," written by George Kirksey of the United Press Sports staff, who was with the late promoter at Miami Beach up to the time of his death. The story is based on facts obtained by Kirksey up to the time of Rickard's illness, and on information gathered from many parts of the country and men and women who knew Rickard from boyhood, including his 81-year-old mother in Seattle, who contributed largely to the first chapter. The story is copyrighted by the United Press associations.

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

"I always took a chance," Tex Rickard said one time discussing his checkered career. This was true not only of his boxing promotion, but of his business ventures as well. It was known by almost everyone along Broadway that Tex was a "sucker" for get-rich-quick schemes, inventions and wild gambles. The chances he took in staging his first two boxing matches, the Gans-Nelson bout at Goldfield in 1906 and the Johnson-Jeffries bout at Reno in 1910 were nothing as compared to some of the risks he assumed in later life.

With the successful promotion of the Johnson-Jeffries bout, it would have seemed that Rickard was definitely launched on his career as a boxing promoter. Rickard, however, chose another field and was absent from the fight game for more than five years from 1910 to 1916.

After the Johnson-Jeffries fight Rickard was severely criticized for promoting a heavyweight championship bout between a white man and a negro. It is understood that Rickard took this to heart and vowed never again to promote a mixed bout, for the heavyweight championship and he never broke his vow.

Gave Tunney His Chance

Rickard's stand on mixed heavyweight title bouts enabled Gene Tunney to get his chance at Jack Dempsey and win the championship. Rickard selected Philadelphia over New York as the site for the first Dempsey-Tunney bout rather than accede to the demands of the New York Athletic commission and match Harry Wills, the negro contender, as to the challenger in place of Tunney.

About a year after the Johnson-Jeffries fight, Rickard took another one of his "long shots." He signed a contract with a syndicate of French and English capitalists to go to South America as the general manager of the Paraguay Land and Cattle company. It ended with Rickard in the possession of a lot of land and no cash.

The company controlled 5,000,000 acres of land in the Chaco country with 100,000 head of cattle on it. The scheme was to erect a giant meat treating and chilling plant in the desert country and ship meat to markets all over the world. By turning the product into chilled beef the profits would have been doubled with cattle bringing $50 to $60 a head instead of $25 to $30 a head.

Retained Land in Paraguay

Rickard acquired title to 327,000 acres of his own in this region and retained it until his death. He held on to it in the belief that someday it would be worth a fortune to him. The land is located in the territory about which the recent Bolivia-Paraguay controversy centered. Shortly before his death Rickard recalled one time when the Bolivian army refused to allow him to cross the border line between those two countries.

He returned to the United States in 1916—promoted his third fight and entered the boxing game for good. Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy had wrested the heavyweight championship from Jack Johnson at Havana in 1915 and New York was clamoring for a chance to see the white champion in action.

As in the case of his first two bouts Rickard had again to obtain financial backing to go through with the bout. The story was told that he went into a banker's office without preparation and put up such a good front that the banker advanced him $20,000 on his word. Samuel McCracken also aided Rickard financially.

Frank Moran was selected as the challenger and Rickard signed him first for a guarantee of $15,000. Willard signed for a guarantee of $30,000.

Rickard rented the old Madison Square Garden and held the bout there. The match attracted a gate of $150,000, a new indoor record. Willard retained his title, but the bout was significant in that it embarked Rickard on his career as a promoter in New York City. It probably was the worst heavyweight title bout ever held.

Rickard now made up his mind to remain in the fight game for better or worse. Up until this time he could not be termed a bona fide boxing promoter as he promoted only three bouts in ten years from 1906 to 1916.

"I began to think everybody in the world was a crook," Rickard said in recalling those days.

Politicians came out openly and demanded their "cuts" on every fight. The complimentary list ran into thousands. Gunmen got jobs as ushers and insulted the customers. Every underhand method known was used to put him out of business.

In the end Rickard won out; the old garden became a paying proposition instead of a white elephant and Rickard was established in New York City.

(Tomorrow's chapter will tell when Rickard first met Dempsey and of the Willard-Dempsey fight)

STRIBLING OPTION IS GIVEN GARDEN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 15.—A contract for the Stribling-Sharkey bout by which Young Stribling receives 20 per cent of the gate receipts and the Madison Square Garden corporation gets an option on the Georgia heavyweight for his next fight, was signed here today.

W. L. Stribling sr., father and manager of the pugilist, signed the contract in the presence of Jack Dempsey and Madison Square Garden associates of the late Tex Rickard.

"I am deligted,55 the elder Stribling said, "to get anything for the fight. My son would fight Sharkey for nothing. I know my boy will knock Sharkey out and go on to the title."

at the National leafiue executive offices.

Hydler stepped into the limelight of sports with something of a flourish at the recent meeting of the National league owners here. His suggestion that an extra man be placed on each team for the purpose of batting for the pitcher has been regarded as one of the most daring suggestions in modern baseball history.

Strangely enough the National league solons did not look upon the idea with great disfavor and it was taken to the meeting of the American league at Chicago. The American league magnates, however, would have no part of it, ridiculing the plan and declaring that it would only serve to increase the burden born by the pitcher.

RIVERS IS OFFERED BOUT WITH CHAVEZ

for bouts at our club," Anderson told The Register. "We realize he is a fine boxer and a splendid drawing card. But we want it understood that Rivers must abide by our terms and our rules.

"Rivers may be qualified to box in main events or semi-windups but he first must prove his fitness. When we were operating as an amateur club Jimmie agreed to meet Chavez. We advertised the match in good faith and then Rivers refused to go through with it, saying he never would appear at our club.

"I repeat again that Rivers can box at the Orange County Athletic club—but first he must go through with the match he once held us up on. And of course he will have to agree to our tedms."

FIRE EXTINGUISHED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 15.—A small fire was reported at the rear of 311 Seventh street yesterday. Due to the quick response of the fire department, no damage was suffered.

Pomona Football Player Summoned

POMONA, Jan. 15.—Local gridiron fans today mourned the passing of Edward Hansen, Pomona college's star tackle of last year's varsity team who died yesterday of complications resulting from automobile injuries. The accident occurred last November when an automobile in which Hansen and Clarence Bishop, another member of the football squad, crashed into another machine. Bishop recovered.

McLarnin May Not Box For 6 Weeks

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B. C., lightweight, may be out of the ring for six weeks because of an injury suffered in his bout with Joe Glick. A small bone was splintered in McLarnin's nose, but the injury was not discovered until after the fight. McLarnin said he would be ready to meet Ray Miller, Chicago sensation, as soon as he recovered. Miller recently won a technical knockout from McLarnin in Detroit.

Nevers To Pitch Against Stanford

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 15.—Ernie Nevers, former Stanford football star and major league pitcher, will hurl for an alumni team today aganist the Cards in the first baseball clash here of the season.

'BUD' SPENCER WILL RETIRE FROM TRACK

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 10.—The "song is ended" for the greatest quarter-miler, if you believe "Dink" Templeton, who ever drew on a pair of spiked shoes.

Emerson Spencer, the one-eyed Phantom of the Farm, has abandoned the cinder path for good—which sets at rest the reports that he will run for the Olympic club this spring.

"Bud" Spencer ran his final race in Europe this summer, and his retirement closes one of the great tragedies of the world of athletics—the story of a runner who fought his way back from the cruelest sort of a "break," reached the top—and then watched the greatest glory of them all, an Olympic championship fade from his sight because of a lot of bungling politicians.

Later last summer, Spencer ran in 11 races while abroad, winning the German, French and International championships. He beat every man that Barbuti had beaten—beat them easily—and he ran nine of the 11 races under 48 seconds. He was never beaten.

He is joint holder of two world relay records—the 1600 meters and mile—and sole holder of the fastest lap ever run—a world record of 47 seconds in the 400 meters, which is two-feet shorter than the quarter mile.

TWO ARE CHARGED WITH WALNUT THEFT

Santa Ana police yesterday arrested two men and are holding them in the county jail in connection with the burglary of the barn of G. W. Smith, 826 North Van Ness treet, several days ago, when six sacks of walnuts, valued at $250, were reported stolen.

The men are E. E. Hunnacutt, 61, of 211 East Tenth street, and Alfred Lalonde, 21, truck driver, of 629 North Birch street. Hunnacutt was arrested by Officers Smithwick and Hershey yesterday afternoonnad Lalonde was taken into custody last night, after he had surrendered at the police station.

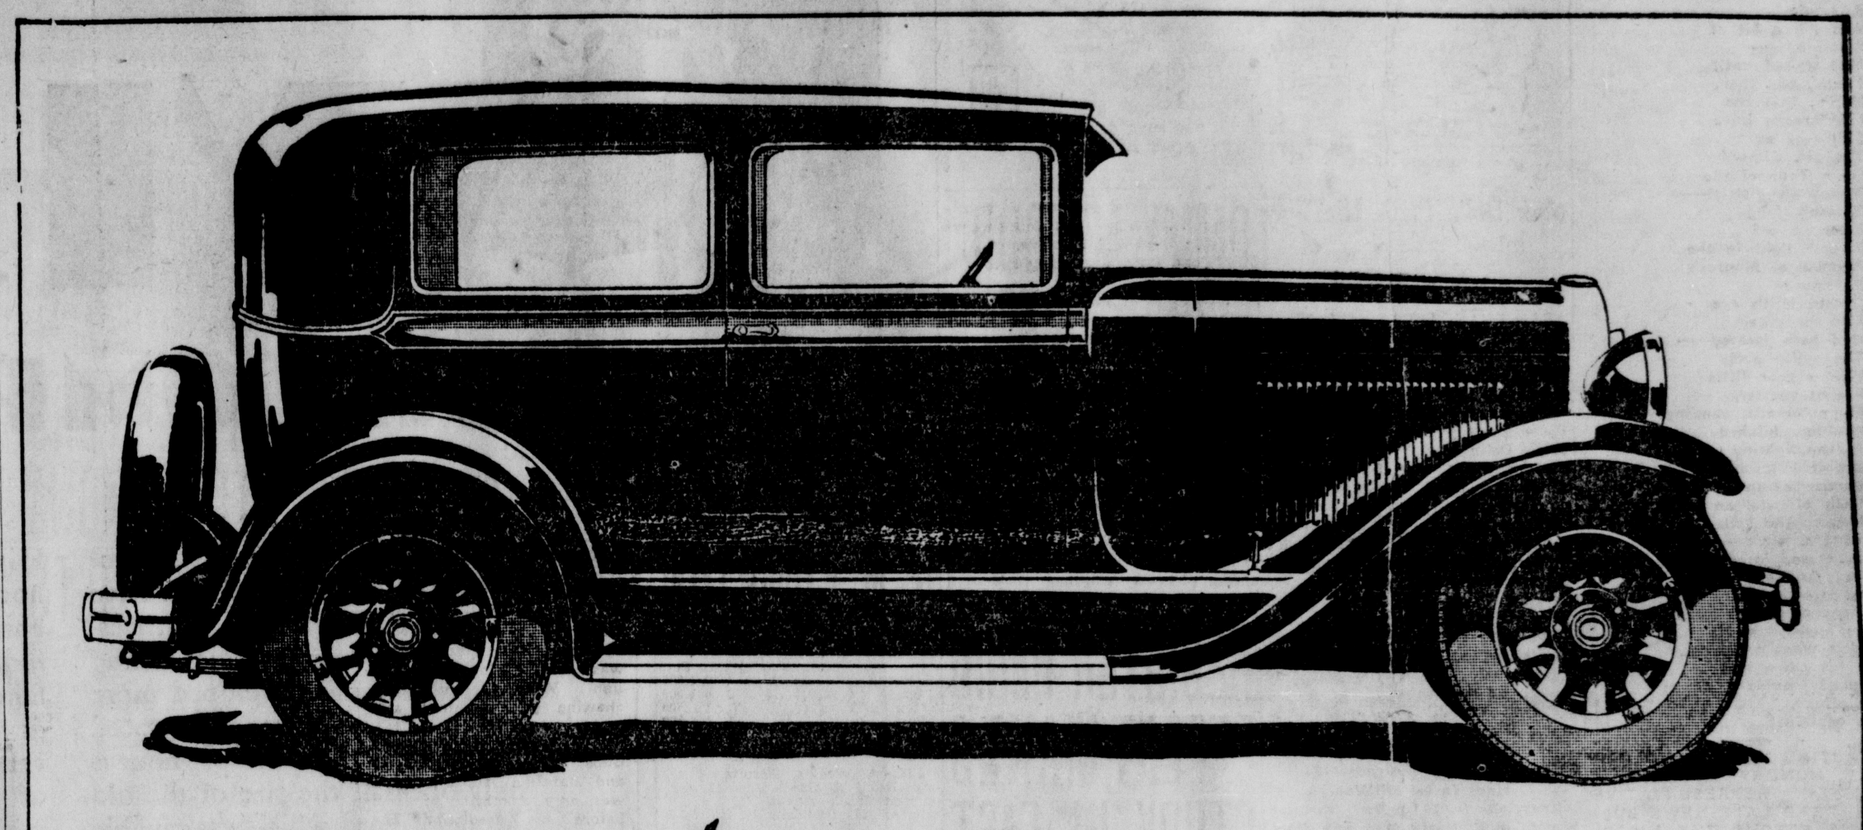

The nuts were taken to Los Angeles where they were sold for $62.50, according to officers. Burglary charges will be filed against the two men, it was said.

Announcing
OLDSMOBILE FOR 1929

Now-finer than ever, but at a new Lower Price . . .

Oldsmobile now offers new engineering advancements that increase performance and dependability—new style refinements that result in even more vivid beauty and even more complete luxury . . . all at a substantial reduction in price!

Twelve months ago, when the new Oldsmobile Six was introduced, engineers and critics pronounced it "two years ahead." And their predictions have been confirmed. No other car in Oldsmobile's field has even approached it in appearance, performance, or luxury of appointment. Yet Oldsmobile has made definite advances in all these qualities.

The fundamentals of Oldsmobile design have not been radically changed. It is the fine car that has already proved itself by millions of miles of dependable service in the hands of thousands of owners . . . but with added refinements.

Oldsmobile's big high-compression engine now delivers 62 horsepower. The piston-pins are now pressure lubricated—an engineering feature heretofore characteristic of high-priced cars. And this is typical of the fine-car standards which have been maintained throughout the design and manufacture of this finer Oldsmobile.

Interiors have been made more luxurious. Upholsteries are richer and more costly. Seat-cushions are deeper and softer. Further, Oldsmobile has the wonderful new Fisher adjustable front seat, which may be moved instantly forward or backward, simply by turning the seat-regulator. This feature, together with Oldsmobile's adjustable steering wheel, provides a new order of comfort for the driver.

Style touches include headlamps of new design mounted on chromium-plated standards, a new cadet-type visor, and an unusual selection of voguish new exterior colorings.

Come and see this finer Oldsmobile. It is the product of one of the industry's pioneer manufacturers, backed by the vast resources of General Motors. And it offers a combination of beauty, luxury, comfort, performance and value which simply cannot be matched at Oldsmobile's new lower price.

FAME FOUNDED ON FIDDLE

Max Dolin had many vicissitudes, pleasant and unpleasant, in his life before he became musical director of the NBC Pacific division.

MAX DOLIN

Max Dolin Plays His Way Into Leadership of NBC Orchestra

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11—When Max Dolin was received into the family household back in Odessa, Russia, in 1888, the family was completely out of silver spoons.

So instead of placing one of these lucky pieces in his mouth, Papa Dolin conceived the idea of placing the family fiddle in the chubby hands of the now famous youngster. And Max, who is musical director of the National Broadcasting company's Pacific division in San Francisco, reached out, accepted the violin and has been lugging it or one like it about with him ever since.

Here are some of Dolin's claims to distinction:

Educated in Paris—just as though he had money.

Played second fiddle only once in his life.

Helped stage Hamlet on a Calgary, Canada, billiard table.

Had Taste of War

Traveled 10,000 miles through Siberia in a "Forty Men and Eight Horses" box car..

Climbing right up the years with Max, we find him engaged in a whole recital by himself at the age of 10 and those who heard still live to tell the tale of the boy who had mastered the best efforts of European composers.

Max had an uncle in Paris who guaranteed a place to sleep and nourishment while an older brother offered tuition. So, of course, it isn't hard to guess that Dolin went to Paris.

Now Max had made up his mind that he was never going to play second fiddle, but when that position was offered to him in an orchestra which was about to tour Canada, he decided he'd like to see something of the world.

The trip to Canada eventually found this Russian Jewish boy in New York. Two hours after he arrived he viited the federal building and emerged with his first citizenship papers.

Begins Westward Ho!

Dolin's first job was in the Astor hotel as orchestra leader. Then he hied himself to St. Paul and took a job as violinist in the National cafe,, an historical old rendezvous, containing the first pipe organ ever installed in an American cafe.

Dolin fooled around the country got married to Miss Gladys Berg, but found time enough before that event to get into the Russian-Japanese war, where he traveled all over Siberia in a stuffy box car.

On his return he started to lead theater orchestras all over the country, finally windink up in San Francisco.

"I never studied music by candle light and I never sylit a rail in my life," he says of himself. "But all the same, it's a long way from my home town, Odessa, to San Francisco."

Mike Thrills Him

Dolin's biggest thrill came when he first stepped in front of a microphone. "The first four weeks are the hardest," he says. "After that one gets accustomed to the thing.

"It's a queer feeling to have the mike" get your goat when you've been used to facing real audiences all your life. A real audience will give you a chance. If it doesn't like the first number, it might like the second or third.

"But in radio you have to make good from the first note."

If pressed further, Dolin will disclose with a good deal of enthusiasm thtt he has a lad, 19, who is a junior in the University of California, and another, 15, of whom he is equally proud. He doesn't know whether they will turn out to be musicians or not.

REGISTER RADIO EXPERT MAKES STUDY IN EAST

By THE RADIO EDITOR

The first article in the series to be writen by Don C. Wallace, radio engineer, to allay any fear which might exist in the minds of Orange county radio fans as regards the possibility of radio reception being ruined here by the operation of KPWF, proposed 50,000-watt station, will be carried in the radio section of The Register on Thursday, January 24, instead of Thursday, January 17.

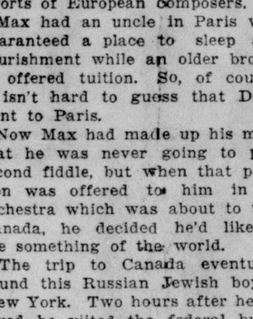

The delay, however, is going to result in a far better series of articles, for the circumstances which have resulted in the postponement also will serve to give Wallace an even better background for his stories.

The radio engineer, recognized as one of the best posted men in the country on high-powered broadcasting, has been called to Dayton, O., and enroute there will visit several powerful stations, investigating the effects they have had on radio reception in their respective districts. Among the stations Wallace will visit are KOA, Denver; WENR, Chicago, and WLW, Cincinnati.

Wallace, who will write four articles, showing that little is to be feared from a properly controlled 50,000-watt station, will prepare his first release while in the east and forward it to The Register.

We regret having to announce the delay in the series, but believe that the first-hand information available through Wallace's eastern visit will make his articles all the more interesting and valuable.

WHY
HIGH COMPRESSION

THE greatest strides in automobile motor development have come through high compression. The modern 91.5 inch racing motor which has developed more than 280 horse-power and a speed greater than 164 miles per hour is only one-half the size of the old Model T Ford, which was capable of developing only 25 horse-power. High compression has done it!

Two years ago only 1%, a year ago less than 21%, while today more than 56% of American automobile manufacturers are producing high compression motors! Compression ratios are constantly increasing because with high compression there is less fuel consumption—greater power—greater speed and acceleration, with generally reduced operating costs.

High Compression motors were not commercially practical however, until a fuel was developed that would function where ordinary gasolines failed. This fuel is Ethyl Gasoline, developed and proved after many years research and the expenditure of thousands of dollars. Blended with the finest gasolines by 42 of the largest and best known oil companies in the world, it is the only genuine anti-knock fuel for high compression motors.

Because Ethyl Gasoline is dyed to distinguish it from ordinary gasolines, hundreds of imitators have produced dyed or so-called anti-knock gasolines whose chief merit is their many claims. Ethyl Gasoline is the only genuine, anti-knock, high compression fuel; and can be obtained only from authorized distributors of Ethyl Brand of anti-knock compound.

AUTHORITY OF PLANNING BODY TOLD BY WEST

A legal opinion on the jurisdiction of the city planning commission in respect to selection of sites for public buildings was made public today by District Attorney Z. B. West jr. The opinion was transmitted to the board of education, which had requested it in connection with a possible school building program which may be launched.

A letter from the planning commission to the board of education recently brought attention to the question.

"It would appear necessary that a favorable report from the city planning commission be obtained before definitely determining the site of a public building," the opinion said.

Attention was called to the fact that the planning commission was created by city ordinance pursuant to its authorization by the general laws of the state. The commission, as set forth in the state law, acts only in an advisory capacity for the purpose of planning in a logical way the future business and residence sections of cities, it was pointed out.

The Santa Ana ordinance provides for the erection of public buildings for special uses, among which are included all public buildings of a municipal or county character and these uses shall be permitted only on application to the board of trustees of the city, the opinion explained.

"Such application shall be referred to the city planning commission for investigation and report," the district attorney's opinion stated. A hearing shall be held by the planning commission and also by the board of trustees. After receiving the report from the planning commission and after having held a hearing the board of trustees may grant or refuse to grant a permit for such special uses, said the opinion.

The document pointed out that, according to City Attorney C. D. Swanner, the Santa Ana board of trustees grants permits for the erection of public buildings or any buildings only after receiving a favorable report from the planning commission.

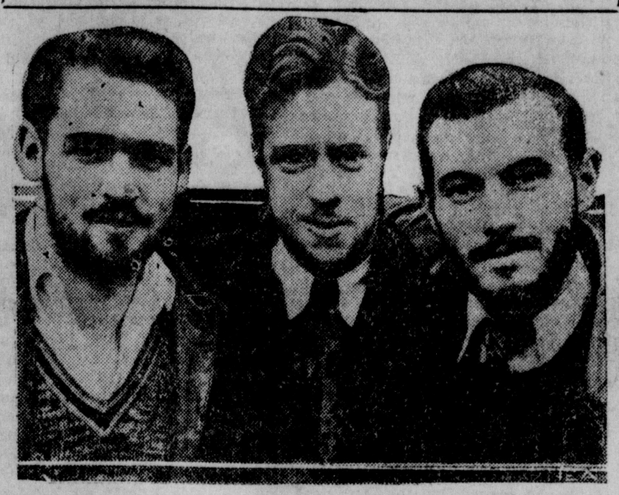

At 7 p. m., tonight, the board of education and its advisory committee will meet to consider a possible school buildng program for the city. It is understood that any such action would affect only the elementary system and that the high school and junior college situation would not be included in building plans until after the outcome of the attempt of the Newport harbor section to secure legislation which would permit it to separate from the Santa Ana high school district.

COUNCIL TO MEET

BREA, Jan. 15.—A meeting of the Brea council of the Y. W. C. A., has been called for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the home of the president of the council, Mrs. W. W. Hay, Stewart Station. Matters of importance will come before the meeting. Miss Ethel Church, genreal secretary of the district of northern Orange county, will be present to assist in the meeting.

OUT OF THAT BRUSH, SOPHS

And now comes the bearded sophomore. The sophomores weren't in training for Santa Claus roles at the University of Washington when they decided to give razors a month's vacation, but there are the results of thirty razorless days. Bill Wilson (left) was adjudged the handsomest beard wearer. Phil MacIntosh (center) was honored for raising the reddest whiskers—a brilliant pink—and Palmer Koon's beard was the stiffest; regular scrub-brush consistency.

LEGISLATORS CLAIM MANY OCCUPATIONS

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 15.—George Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and Leroy Anderson, attorney, who have spent the past few days in Sacramento in the interests of the high school and the harbor bills, have returned home.

According to Macleod, Thursday was spent in consultation with Senator Edwards, of Orange, and Assemblyman Ted Craig, of Brea. William J. Cooper, state superintendent of public instruction, and his deputy, Sam Cohn, were present. Macleod reported that all seemed to be sympathetic toward the school measures which Senator Edwards has presented, and which will be known as senate bill No. 142.

As the committee on education, to which the school bill has been referred, had not been appointed at the time of leaving Sacramento, it was not believed that a hearing could be had before the second half of the session.

Senator Edwards expressed the wish that Macleod and Anderson return at the time of debate on the question in order to make available all possible information at that time.

The harbor bill, which will be known as senate bill no 5, is slated for the second half of the session, as it is not expected to be reported back from the committee on commerce and marine to which it will be referred, before that time.

A full report on the visit will be given at the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce at the Palisades club next Thursday evening.

PLAYGROUNDS NEED HERE IS TOLD TO B. P. W.

Santa Ana Business and Professional Women are in favor of the state's return to the fold of the National Federation B. and P. W. if the vote taken at the recent dinner meeting may be taken as an indication, for results announced yesterday at the luncheon in St. Ann's Inn showed that of the number of local votes cast, practically two-thirds stood for re-entry into the national.

A talk on "Recreational Needs in Parks and Playgrounds," by L. W. Archer, one of the supervisors of physical education in the city schools and head of the park and playground work featured yesterday's meetings.

The speaker cited the growth of the playground movement in this city, from an attendance of 400 at one summer recreational ground in 1925, to a registration of 30,151 children at the six playgrounds maintained last year. Unfortunately there is no appropriation for a continuation of the work and its complete cessation, unless the city comes to the assistance of the workers this year, will throw all those children and the normal increase in attendance upon the streets for amusement during the summer vacation months, he said.

"With our present understanding of underlying psychological reasons for the acts and motifs of childhood, we recognize that the instincts of children must find expression, even if it be in throwing a stone at a cat or a passing truck. The work of the playground is to give these instincts their normal development," explained Archer.

In summing up his points, Archer declared that three-fourths of the cities of the Southland boast municipal playgrounds, and declared that he was certain that Santa Ana really wanted a continuation of the work, for as it has been pointed out by authorities, increased playground facilities have a corresponding decrease in juvenile delinquencies.

Announcements made during the course of the noon meeting included that of the Y. M. C. A. dinner in Legion hall Thursday night, at 6:30, to which an invitation was issued by Miss Mabel McFadden, to all B. and P. W. members. The Rev. Graham Hunter, of Fullerton, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Loyal K. King told of the interesting program in store for members at next Monday's luncheon at the Inn, when W. Rhodes Hervey, head of the trust department of the Los Angeles First National Trust and Savings bank, will speak on "Community Property Laws."

STUDENT BODY PRIMARY VOTE IS HELD TODAY

Contrary to previous plans, the primary election in Santa Ana high school for student body officers was held today. The final vote for president will be held Thursday.

As three candidates are running for the presidential office ,the two highest in today's contest will run Thursday. The other offices on the ballot were to be decided today.

Clarence Speer, John Keeler and Jerry Tannenbaum are the three boys seeking the presidency. All three apparently are tied for the office and the race will be close. For vice president, Bruce Tarver and Harvey Anderson were running against each other.

Margaret Wilson and Phyllis O'Connor are in the race for the secretary's position. Miss O'Connor now is holding the office.

The four self-government jobs were hotly contested. Stanley Hardin, Ted Newcomb, Norman Paul and Ed Connor are seeking the boys' posts, while Willena Bell, Dorothea Bourne, Marian Parsons and Wilma Patterson are seeking the girls' positions.

CHIEF'S REPORT SHOWS DAMAGE OF $28,568.05

Per capita loss from fire in Santa Ana in 1928 was the lowest in years, while personal injuries were the greatest in the history of the city, it was revealed today by John Luxembourger, fire chief, in a report to City Manager W. G. Knox.

Pointing out that fire loss for the year was 95 cents per person, the chief emphasized the point that a property loss of only $28,568.05 was sustained with approximately $650,000 worth of property menaced. The chief comments on the fact that the per capita loss of last year compares favorably with losses in other recent years, with the average in 1925 being $4.60. The department responded to 104 calls, eight of which were false alarms.

Luxembourger's report, of wide interest to property owners, was as follows:

"As no fires of any real consequence occured in Santa Ana during 1928, it is apparent that the majority of the fires were confined to smaller structures, resulting, in a great many cases, from carelessness. An exceptionally large percentage of these fires were preventable if the owners and occupants of the buildings had only availed themselves of the opportunity of correcting the conditions ultimately resulting in the destruction of their property by fire.

"Of the $28,568 worth of prop-

High School Girls Plan Post-Leap Year Dance For Saturday

The year 1928 is gone, but the memory lingers on in the minds of co-eds of Poly high.

At least it would seem so, as the girls are giving another Ladies' Choice dance as they did during last year.

This dance will be unusual in that the tables will be turned and the fairer sex are to provide the boys with an evening's fun at Andrews' gymnasium next Saturday night.

The dance is sponsored by the Girls' league which is composed of all of the girls of the high school and Ada Marie Hendricksen is chairman of the dance committee. The gym is to be beautifully decorated with gay colored balloons, according to Lucretia Gillins and Wilma Patterson who are in charge of decorations.

Ed Wood and his Rhythmic Rascals are to keep the young people's feet busy during the evening. The high school orchestra is composed of Ed Wood, banjo; Duncan Harnois, piano; Carlton Smith, trumpet; John Granger, drums; and George Haddon, Thomas Mahan and Donald Young, saxophones.

The girls are planning to make such a dance an annual affair.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

How to Avoid "Innocuous Desuetude"

"Innocuous desuetude," a $3 word applied to politicians gone to seed, is a most apt description of a can of peas in my estimation . . . swimming around helplessly in a sickly sea . . . I'll spare you the rest of the details.

For those who suffer with me, I offer a gleam of hope in—

PEAS COOKED WITH CUCUMBER

Peel, and dice a cucumber, small or large, and cook it with a can of peas, using part of the water in the can of peas. All of it may be used if the lid is left off the vessel during cooking and the water evaporated—thus the mineral salts are salvaged.

To season, allow 2 tablespoons of cream and 1 teaspoon of butter for each cup of vegetable. Season with salt and pepper and cook briskly for a minute before serving.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Walnut Bread

2 cups sour milk
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
3 cups graham flour
1 cup chopped walnuts
1-2 cup white flour
1 level teaspoon baking powder.

Blend the shortening with the sugar smoothly, to this add the graham flour and cut the sugar mixture through it until it is like coarse meal. Salt should go in with the flour.

Dissolve the soda in the sour milk and mix smoothly with the flour. Beat the batter very thoroughly at this stage of mixing.

The cup of nuts called for does not mean a cupful measured after chopping. It means just tossed into the cup and not pressed down.

Lay them on a board and cut with a knife. Where walnuts are not available blanched peanuts will answer nicely. Put them on a towel and run the rolling pin over them to crush coarsely.

The white flour and baking powder are sifted together and added to the loaf last of all. Butter a deep bread tin, pack well into the corners, and bake slowly for 1 hour. Do not serve until cold.

Around 2900 calories are in this recipe. A few loaves of such bread would have put old Omar beyond the "thou beside me singing in the wilderness" stage . . . he would have been just plain FAT.

A slice 1-2 inch thick has 150 calories in it, undecorated with butter. If you know that bread like this is a fine source of PROTEIN, and graham flour has IRON in it?

Musicale and Card Party Arrangements Are Made By Music Section

In order to assist the Ebell junior chorus that is in need of financial aid, the music section of the society is planning a musicale to be followed by a card party at the Ebell clubhouse on the evening of February 4.

Plans for the affair, that will be especially interesting because of the selections that will be given by Santa Ana's best known artists, were made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Music section held at the clubhouse.

Madame Manuela Budrow, who is directing the junior chorus, has promised to present a group of Spanish numbers and Marie Bishop, U. Holmes Bishop, and Neal Pritchett will also take part in the evening's program. Several numbers will be given by the girls' chorus which includes daughters of Ebell members.

Following yesterday's business session, a review of the opera, "La Tosca," by Tuccino, was given by Mrs. G. J. Daley and her charming talk was illustrated with several songs given by Mrs. H. B. Van Dien. Especially lovely was "Vissi d' Arte," one of the best known selections from the opera. Mrs. Van Dien was accompanied by Miss Nell Jacobson at the piano.

BOWKNOT SCARF

Newest scarfs are not the triangle nor yet the square but the very long shape, ranging from six to ten inches wide. They wind around the neck and tie in a double bowknot under the chin, leaving long ends hanging.

INTRICATE DETAIL

A flush-beige ballibuntl hat with wide sides, short front and turned up back has its crown slot-seamed over matching grosgrain ribbon in a pattern of fine leaves. It gives the impression of quilting.

Annual Courtesy Dinner Given For Husbands By Ebell Members

The second of the annual dinners held by members of the Santa Ana Ebell society as a compliment to their husbands that took place last night at the clubhouse was one of the most delightful affairs ever given there.

More than 200 guests were gathered in the peacock room, where tables were brilliant with artistic bouquets of greenery and bright red geranium, with other table appointments in the same lovely tones. Baskets of scarlet poinsettias on the stage and the beautiful centerpiece of sweet peas and fern at the head table completed the decorations.

The delicious dinner was served by a bevy of pretty girls under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Haddon and Mrs. J. H. Metzgar. They included Miss Mignonne Swales, Miss Dorothy Forgy, Miss Margaret Whitson, Miss Florence Brownridge, Miss Helen Heil, Miss Edith Bailey, Miss Sara Crone, Miss Caroline Ferrey, Miss Marian Cruickshank, Miss Louise Maloney, Miss Constance Cruickshank, Miss Ninette Rowland, Miss Dorothy Beals, Miss Vivian Herr, Miss Gertrude Chapman, Miss Rose Marie Smith, Miss Emmeline Swales, and Miss Helen Slabaugh.

Mrs. Charles Carothers presided in the kitchen and Mrs. J. D. Wilson was in charge of the decorating.

The invocation was asked by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

During the dinner hour a musical program was presented by a quartet composed of Alan Revill, piano; Edward Burns, cello; Elwood Bear, violin, and Lyle Roberts, clarinet. As an accompaniment to the lovely music, a group of Santa Ana girls, the Misses Virginia Berry, Emily Holmes, Anne Tarver, Beth Wescott, and Dorothy Maroon were presented by Madame Marie Louise in a fashion show.

The succession of pretty frocks and chapeaux worn by the group portended styles for the spring months. Smart sports dresses were shown with hats of straw and felt while furs from the Olive Duling fur shop complemented each costume. The revue included several costumes in georgette and crepe de chine with jackets and coats of velvet.

Following the dinner, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, president of Ebell society, who presided over the affair, introduced Mrs. S. W. Nau of Tustin who greeted the husbands, and gave a toast to them in which she pointed out the many good qualities which seem to mark Ebell husbands and place them above other husbands.

Mrs. Coulter then spoke a few words in which she very cleverly wove the titles of popular books, after which she introduced A. J. Cruickshank who responded to Mrs. Nau's toast on behalf of the husbands present with a friendly little talk in which he told how man's greatest deeds are accomplished in the name of woman.

Ebell's past presidents and their husbands were guests of honor and were seated at the head tables where places were marked by clever little cards. Guests at this table included Mrs. Coulter, the Rev. and Mrs. O. Scott McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Nau, Mr and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. John Clarkson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gowen, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davis, Mrs. Victor Montgomery, Mrs. W. H. Harrison.

A group of 35 boys representing the various Hi-Y clubs in the city gathered at 6:30 o'clock last night around the tables in the dining hall of thelocal Y. M. C. A. for the monthly banquet and meeting. The meal was served by Mrs. Jessie Searls, matron of the association, with the help of several boys. Music during the banquet was furnished by the Hi-Y orchestra, under the leadership of Leon R. McMullen, leader of the Congregational club. The boys were led in singing by Edward Miller, new assistant pastor of the Presbyterian church. A piano duet, "The March of the Wooden Soldiers," played by Mr. McMullen and Halstead McCormac, followed.

The speaker of the evening, Chase Garfield, instructor in the Rankin school of Aviation at Portland, Oregon, was introduced by T. P. McKee, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Garfield gave the boys an interesting discussion of the present aviation system. He brought out points that would both attract and repel those who, in search of a profession, had considered aviation. The various types of pilots' licenses and the training of the pilots themselves was described.

La Habra Wedding Is Pretty Event of Week-end

One of the pretty weddings of the week end in Orange county was that which united Ira Pennell, son of Mrs. S. E. Woodworth of La Habra, and Miss Margaret Mortimer, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mortimer of Tieron, Washington.

The Rev. E. M. Sutton, former pastor of the La Habra Methodist Episcopal church, officiated at the ceremony that took place at the Woodworth home where quantities of pink rose buds and maidenhair fern were used as decoration.

As the bride entered the room, clad in a becoming taffeta gown, bouffant style, and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, the Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Roberta Woodworth, young sister of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Obrey Matthews, as matron of honor, wore satin and lace and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair fern. Obrey Matthews served his cousin as best man.

A reception was held following the service when guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Pennell and Mrs. Woodworth. The bride cut the large white wedding cake which was served with ices by Miss Roberta Woodworth and Miss Mae Lyman.

After a honeymoon at Catalina Island, Mr and Mrs. Pennell will return to La Habra where Mrs. Pennell will make her home with Mrs. Woodworth while her husband returns to his duties aboard the U. S. S. Maryland.

Mr. Pennell is well known in the northern part of this county as he is a graduate of the Fullerton high school. His wife graduated from Yacima high school in Washington and later attended the Griffin business college in Seattle.

The young men and women of today have very definite ideas on what is fashionable. Are you confronted with the problem of choosing a gift for some young modern? You can make your task decidedly easier and insure the appropriateness of your remembrance by consulting such a store as our own which caters to and has given serious consideration to the fancies of the younger generation.

The WOMAN'S DAY
by ALLENE SUMNER

We are told that there are now just about one million and a half hotel rooms in the United States; that these rooms are in about 27,000 hotels and that we have more hotels than the nation can really use. That does sound like a lot of rooms, but when one gets to wondering how many house rooms and houses there are in the country, the number seems rather pale.

But the gloom hounds will read into this warning a song of woe to the effect that we are all going to the hotel bow-wows and that what we need is the return of the old-fashioned home. By the way, there are about 27,000,000 homes!

WOULD WE CHANGE?

Every once in a while some more or less professional scientist converts hens into roosters or vice versa or experiments with eggs before hatched so as to reap a crop of all hens or roosters. Then begin speculations as to the probability of controlling sex in the human world, producing males or females at will, and even exchanging what's on hand for something deemed much better. Paul Hadley of New Jersey, just hatched a crop of 500 hen baby chicks, by the use of the X-ray.

One wonders what will happen when all this is quite possible in the human realm. How many women, for instance, would be men, of they could, and vice versa? Here's wagering that very few would dare try the exchange, what with all the carping to the effect that the other sex always has it the easiest.

IT'S OKAY

Just why there should be a world championship talking contest at all must seem strange to many people, as such a thing opens in New York, and, at latest reports, was going rather strong, with honors about evenly divided twixt male and female. And yet why not? Why isn't a talking tournament fully as worth while as "a bunion marathon," an egg or oyster gulping contest, a flagpole sitting contest, and all the other contest ills that mortal flesh is heir to?

Certainly one can not travel about very much without being impressed by the fact that most people need some sort of conversational training. If a marathon's the answer, more power to it!

THE TINYMITES
STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The little dwarf stood on the ground and, as the Tinies circled 'round, he shouted, "Well, good luck, my lads. Be sure and hang on tight. You all can take this word from me: Your engine's safe as it can be. As long as you behave yourselves you'll all come out all right."

Then Scouty shouted, "Thank you, sir! We're ready for what will occur. We much enjoyed our visit in your wondrous mountain land. Some day we'll surely come back here. We'd like to visit you each year. If trouble comes we'll call n you. We're sure you'll lend a hand."

"You bet I will," the dwarf replied. "And now, good-bye. Enjoy your ride. The engine wings will flap away until you're out of sight. Then you will find a place that's new, where there are lots of things to do." And, as the Tinies disappeared, he waved with all his might.

The bunch were cheerful as could be. The engine was quite queer to see. It flew along just like a bird and seemed to travel fast. "I wonder," litle Coppy said, "what sort of place is far ahead. I hope that when we recah the place we don't go sailing past."

Then Clowny said, "It's my real gues that we will soon get in a mess. Supposin's we desire to land. We cannot stop this car. The wings keep flapping to and fro and worst of all we do not know where we are really bound for, or in fact, just where we are."

Just at this momnet Scouty said, "Hey, Tinymites! Just look ahead. I see a lady on a duck. She may be nice. Hurray. Oh where, oh where will this trip end. Perhaps we're going to make a friend." And, as the Tinies watched her, she appeared to head their way.

The Tinymites meet the duck lady in the next story.)

Laguna Beach

B. and P. W.

The largest attendance of any meeting yet held by the Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's club heard Mrs. Mab Copland Lineman, Los Angeles attorney, Wednesday evening in the Tea and Tiffin as she touched on legal problems which are likely to be encountered by women. About 60 members and guests were present.

Drawing on her own experiences as an attorney to illustrate her points, Mrs. Lineman told of the respective rights of husbands and wives in joint property, explained joint tenancy and its advantages and disadvantages, of trust deeds and mortgages, of checks and other papers and what the law has to say concerning them under different sets of circumstances.

Mrs. Lineman also dwelt on the laws governing wills and inheritances and the audience gave close attention. She spoke before the Woman's club several weeks ago, and as many of the members of that organization were unable to be present at that time, the Business and Professional Women invited them to attend their meeting.

Mrs. Mabel Lippincott, vice president, presided at the request of Mrs. W. T. Lambert, president of the club. Mrs. Thomas A. Cummings invited members of the club and others to joint a law study class being formed by the Woman's Club, of which club she is presdent.

Those who were present were: Miss Margaret Allen and friend, Miss Frances Abbott, Mrs. W. M. Bernard, Mrs. Ida R. Bolles, Mrs. Fern Burford, Miss Collins, Mrs. Thomas A. Cummings, Dr. F. E. TALBERT

The Fountain Valley Parent-Teachers association met Wednesday afternoon at the school for its monthly meeting and a special call meeting of the officers of the association, combined.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Eckdol, the school nurse, who spoke on "What The P.-T. A. Can Do For Undernourished Children." As there are several in the local school who would profit by being in the Health camp the subject was one of interest.

An instrumental duet by Louie and Juanita Penrod and a folk dance given by seventh and eighth grade girls completed the program.

The president, Mrs. Charles Preston, presided over the business session at which time the matter of opening the school cafeteria on next Monday was taken up and many points pertaining to the work incurring from it, were discussed. The five women teachers of the school are to take charge of the cafeteria, one for each school day of the week, and members of the Camp Fire Girls' organization of the school are to assist. The girls will be divided into groups for the work and in this way will win their camp fire honors.

Tentative plans for a bazaar, which were made at the last meeting, were again discussed and committees appointed to prepare for it and a home talent play for which the date has not been set, either.

La Habra

Nearly 100 persons were present Thursday evening for the regular meeting of the Federated Brotherhoods at the Social Hall.

The meeting opened with a delicious dinner served by the Daughters of Benevolence of the Christian church. Instrumental numbers were given by Josephine and Irene Wallace and Mrs. Dewitt gave two vocal solos.

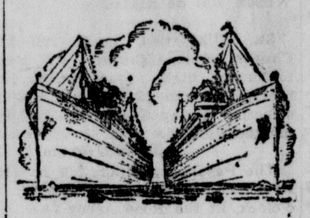

Dr. O. S. Parrott, local physician, gave an interesting talk on diet and its relation to health.

Westminster

On Tuesday evening a "Novelty" card party is to be given at Odd Fellows hall, sponsored by the "Busy Bee" club, with Mrs. Edna Cozad as hostess.

A small charge will be made for playing and everyone will be welcome.

At the Theatres

WEST COAST-WALKER

Not since the filming of "The Birth of a Nation" has such a galaxy of screen players been assembled for a picture as was brought together for the filming of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Trail of '98," which is now being shown at the Walker theater.

In fact it must be admitted that the cast of the new picture is even more important than the cast which portrayed the characters of D. W. Griffith's great film masterpiece, inasmuch as the Griffith players have become famous since then rather than being famous at the time that epic of the south was made.

Director Clarence Brown has used fifty well-known screen artists in the portrayal of the characters in Robert W. Service's celebrated story of the maddest gold rush the world has ever known—the klondike, in the declining years of the nineteenth century.

Ralph Forbes, who has the leading male romantic role, was an actor of note on the London stage before coming to America where he made his film debut as the youngest brother in "Beau Geste."

Dolores Del Rio, who has the featured feminine role, is regarded as one of the best artists of the screen.

Harry Carey, seen as the "heavy," was a western star for more than ten years, but has recently been playing character parts.

YOST BROADWAY

Arguing that the old-fashioned marriage, founded on love, respect and mutual forbearance has more safeguards for a woman than the so-called companionate or trial marriage for a limited period, "Marriage by Contract" the John M. Stahl special production for Tiffany-Stahl showing at the Yost Broadway theater tomorrow and Thursday nights, will no doubt stir up many an argument.

In addition to the notable picture will be shown five acts of vaudeville that are promised to be of exceptional entertainment.

Charles and Lucilee Varroere in "Taps to Tunes," will offer a novelty that has met with enthusiasm wherever they have appeared. Their "stair case dance" is billed as an attraction distinctly "different." Joey and Joy are expert cyclists and pantomimists, and Miss Joy will display some ravishing costumes.

Burt LeMar, whose body is apparently constructed of India rubber, will present novelty acrobatics, and the Jansleys, who are European aerialists, bring a remarkable stage setting for their clever act. To complete the entertainment bill that popular headliner of vaudeville, Davey Jamieson, ("Dancing Davey") will give his whirlwind impersonations, monologues and dances, coming direct from Pantages theater in Los Angeles where he has been billed ever since his return from European successes.

WEST END

The mightiest of all sea stories, "The Blood Ship," was to come to the West End theater today for two days. Hobert Bosworth plays the leading role of the sea captain. This picture is noted for its unique direction and for something new in sea storms and one which is claimed to be the best ever photographed.

Owing to the demand from patrons for some place to go late in the afternoon the management has inaugurated a new policy of running the West End theater continuously from 2:15 until 11 p. m. every day in the week.

The guests included the Misses Percy Head, Dottie Winters, Alberta Veil, Edna Franzen, Marcello Marshall, Frieda Yorde, Margaret State, Ramona, Arena and Reona Beaver, Avis Freeman and Louise Couts, all of Anaheim high school and Mary Goodykoontz, of U. C. L. A.

Dinner

Mrs. E. J. Chandler entertained Tuesday with a birthday dinner in honor of her husband. After dinner a large birthday cake decorated in pink and white, was cut and served to the guests. FRANCES WILLARD

Banquet

Great plans are being made for the best Mothers' and Daughters' banquet ever held by the Frances Willard school. Mrs. Edith Thatcher, girls' advisor, has charge of this annual event and with the help of a number of committees, this year's banquet promises to surpass those held in previous years. This is to be held on Thursday evening, January 17, at 6 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. building. Already interesting plans are being made by the program committee for a wonderful evening of entertainment.

The following committees have been appointed:

Decoration, Miss Vanche Plumb, Ruth Jenkins, Peggy Vander Brugen, Natalie Neff, Winifred Ball and Helen Turley.

Program, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, Flora Park, Marian Brownridge, Virginia Fox, Jeanne Leive.

Stunts, Miss Grace Smiley, Susanna Alexander, Marian Hawk, Marguerite Avas, Dorothy Heinley, Betty Heil.

Ticket sale, Miss Dorothy Broadway and the girls of the Willard Welfare club.

Music, speeches and interesting stunts will be features of the evening. It is hoped that more mothers and daughters than ever before will plan to attend this happy Willard occasion. The new girls in the school are especially urged to attend the banquet with their mothers and make the acquaintance of those who have been a part of the Willard school for a longer time. Save Thursday evening and make this the happiest reunion in the history of the girls events.

Florence Warmer was elected to serve as president of the Every Girl's club for next semester at a meeting held last Friday. Marian Brownridge was elected vice-president; Winifred Ball, secretary; Virginia Fox, treasurer; Ruth Jenkins, reporter, and Betty Rowland and Carol House, cheer leaders.

These girls will resume their duties at the beginning of the next semester.

Booster Club

Bob Spurgeon, ninth grade, was elected president of the Willard Booster club, for the ensuing semester. Bob has been an active member of the Booster club since he has been in Willard and has taken an active interest in all school affairs.

Robert Broomell was elected to serve as vice-president and Floyd Blower, secretary.

An interesting program followed the election of officers.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith of Santa Ana delighted her audience with several readings which were very entertaining. Virginia Fox next played a piano solo, followed by a flute solo by Philip Hood. Lawrence Garrison and Herbert Cropsey played several hormonica duets which were greatly appreciated. Clarence Ewing sang with ukulele accompaniment. David and Mac Beall sang two duets which were greatly enjoyed.

Visits Radio Station

The Willard Radio club, under the direction of Mr. Hicks, visited the broadcasting station KWTC last Tuesday during the club period. About 25 boys met outside the station and Dr. Hancock talked about the microphones. He then took groups of five into the transmitter room, while Mr. Hicks in the studio, talked about the sound-proofed walls and positions of the microphones when broadcasting. In the transmitter room, the club saw the batteries, chargers, and transformers that furnish the power, and the large vacuum tubes used, one of which was about fifteen inches high. Before leaving the boys inspected the aerial and counterpoise systems. Dr. Hancock suggested to the boys that they learn the code and become licensed operators, as there is a big field open in that line.

Shows Progress

The Melody-way Piano class which has met once each week during this semester, under the direction of Miss Gladys P. Campbell, has been making splendid progress. The members of this class deserve special credit for the interest they have shown by meeting before school time for their lessons.

This is the first year that free piano instruction has been a part of the regular school system. The Melody-way is being recognized throughout the country for being essentially progressive, and Willard is proud to be one of the pioneers in this mark of progression. Those now studying may continue their work. New classes will be organized for beginners next semester. All those interested in starting lessons are urged to plan on signing the slips as soon as they are given out. The materials required are $2. The time schedule of classes will be published in the next issue of the Willard Arrow.

Those who have met for their class this term are Vernis Waggoner, Beatrice Hamby, Vivian Waller, Marie Bradford, Esther Wallace, Pearl Wilson, Blanche Christensen, Frances Marr, Lola Weethee, Helen Fine, Dorothy Oliphant and Hazel Oliphant.

Another interesting feature of the meeting was the initiation of Robert Broomell, who has been elected to join the club.

PARENT-TEACHERS

Frances Willard

The Frances E. Willard P.-T. A. met on Thursday, January 10 in the auditorium of the school. S. W. Archer gave some very interesting facts concerning the play ground situation in Santa Ana.

Sally Lee Scales sang a group of songs acccmpanied by Ione Tunnison Peek. A question box took up the remainder of the afternoon and many interesting subjects were discussed.

JULIA LATHROP

With the end of the semester only three weeks off, students of Julia Lathrop are busy making up work, getting in projects and generally bringing grades up to standard. Announcements from the office state that all back work must be in by January 18. This rule applies especially to the High Nine classes that will go to the high school the first of February.

"Pickles"

The Lathrop Operetta, "Pickles" is to be presented on Thursday and Friday, January 17 and 18. With Miss Edith Cornell and Miss Maxine Zolman directing, the operetta is sure to be a success and both students and faculty are looking forward to the production.

Several of the clubs were very fortunate in being able to make Christmas gifts during club periods this year. Mrs. Sinke's cooking classes made cookies, fancy cakes and candy. Miss Foster's Art and Needle Work club made cross-stitched purses, pillows and embroidered pieces of various sorts.

Miss Graham's Low 9 class has been holding a series of interesting debates in connection with the regular English work.

Seventh and eighth grade English classes under Miss Blythe's direction are writing friendly letters to Australian school children as practice in letter writing. The names and addresses for these letters were obtained through Miss Nicholson who used them in her work with the Geography classes.

Miss Tummond's ninth grade art classes are taking up the study of landscape and outdoor sketching.

Dresses Finished

Sewing classes under Miss Foster have almost finished their dresses. These dresses will be used in the fashion show which comes at the end of the semester. The girls plan to model about 75 dresses this year.

As a reward for getting the largest quota in the Community Chest Drive at Lathrop, the students of Miss Leila Thrasher's home class are to take a trip to the Mission play in the near future. They are looking forward to this expedition very much and are especially interested in the Mission play since their study of California history during the semester.

On Tuesday the regular meetings of the Every Girl's club and I.X.L. were held.

The Every Girls club enjoyed an interesting program consisting of several musical numbers and a short musical skit called "American Grand Opera."

Mr. Walker of the Boy Scouts gave an excellent talk to the Boys' I.X.L. meeting and members of the Glee club under Miss Cornell's direction gave several scenes advertising the Lathrop Operetta "Pickles."

ARTESIA

On January 9, the basketball teams of Artesia and Franklin met at Artesia for what proved to be an exciting game. The score was tied during most of the game and it was necessary to play an extra five minutes to break the tie. The final result showed Artesia winner, with a score of 13 to 10.

Friday afternoon, the Los Alamitos baseball team met Artesia on the home field. The game was a very close one, as Artesia won by a score of 6 to 5.

Bridge

The teachers' bridge club was entertained Friday evening by Mrs. Alice Taulbee and Mirrle Wilson at the home of the latter. A Chinese motif was used in decorating. First prize for high score was won by Mrs. Fern Flood, while Mrs. Helen Abbey received second. Chop suey, rice cakes and tea were served at the conclusion of the evening of bridge.

erty destroyed by fire in the past year, $20,893.05 was lost between January 1 and June 30. Over $18,631 worth of buildings were destroyed last year, slightly less than the amount lost in the form of contents (furniture, stock, clothes, personal belongings, etc.) which was $14,936.77.

Approximately 80 per cent of the total number of fires in the past year were covered by insurance, resulting in immediate rebuilding of the partially or totally destroyed buildings.

"Fourteen of the total number of fires during 1927 were in business houses in the high-value or commercial district. Although many 'still' alarms were answered in the downtown business district, only 14 business institutions were affected by fire.

"Department records show that during the first half of the year 50 alarms were responded to by the department while 54 were answered during the last six months. The majority of the alarms were received by telephone, the street boxes being used almost entirely in the commercial district after business hours when telephones are practically unavailable.

Four Lives Lost

"Returning to the fire loss, Santa Ana has suffered in the last 12 months, one of the heaviest losses in its history, relative to the casualties and injuries resulting from fire. Fire snuffed out the lives of four persons, records showing that one man, two women and one child lost their lives in this manner.

"Serious injuries to individuals showed a slight increase over previous years, with 13 citizens and one fireman recorded as injured. Injuries to citizens were largely due to burns while the one fireman was injured as the result of the caving-in- of a skylight on firemen below.

"Asphyxiation and childbirth resulted in three emergency calls for inhalators in the last six months. Although the Santa Ana fire department is not equipped with an inhalator a squad of men is held in readiness at any hour to respond to any call where artificial respiration is needed. The opinion that an inhalator is identical to the 'pul-motor' is false and a new light should be thrown on the matter regarding the same. The inhalator does not force oxygen into the lungs, thereby destroying the air cells as the antique type 'pul-motor' commonly did. Approved inhalators of today have proved themselves without a rival when used by competent and capable authorities for the following cases: asphyxiation, childbirth, shock, still-birth, carbon-monoxide poisoning, drownings, reviving patients after an over dose of anesthetic, etc.

90 Per Cent Preventable

"Apparently 90 per cent of the 104 alarms received in 1928 were preventable, a great many of the fires being the direct result of carelessness or neglect. Classification of the causes of the alarms received by the fire department in the past year are as follows: Trash fires (out of control), 11; false alarms, 8; grease on stove igniting, 3; unknown, 6; backfire from auto, 2; unprotected gas plate, 1; children and matches, 8; defective auxiliary alarm system, 1; suicide, 1; electric motor, 1; gas heaters, 5; oil storage tank, 1; smoking, 2; oil lamp, 1; jeweler's smelter, 1; spontaneous ignition, 2; gas explosions, 2; automobiles, 9; vents and flues, 9; cleaning clothes (gas), 5; cleaning floors with gas, 2; gas overflow (auto), 3; hi-voltage line, 1; cigarettes in auto, 1; oxy-acet, tank igniting, 1; kerosene stove, 1; truck, 1; inhalators (calls), 3; defective oven, 1; sparks from chimney, 2; candle, 1; matches, 3; pressing irons, 4; sewer trap igniting, 1.

"Neglected trash fires, children playing with matches, gas heaters, neglected vents and flues, cleaning clothes with gasoline and the general use of gasoline for cleaning purposes remain the outstanding causes of fire loss and injuries.

"Lack of sufficient man power, seriously curtails the activities and practice of salvage methods. This work when properly handled with sufficient men would greatly reduce the annual loss caused by smoke and water damage. To define salvage more clearly, it is merely the practice of protecting and removing furnishings, stock, personal belongings from smoke and water damage while extinguishing the fire.

"Inspections totaling 2280 were made by the fire prevention bureau, these being classified in the following manner: Routine inspection, 1720; special (request inspections), 352; places of public assembly (schools, hospitals, theaters, dance halls, etc.), 208.

26 Investigations

"Investigations of all fires to determine their cause and origin are made. Special investigations numbering 26 with the following classification of incendiary fires: Juvenile, 5; of suspicious origin, 8.

"Regarding the fires of suspicious origin or bordering on the crime of arson, it might be well to mention that since thorough investigations are being made of all fires, the fire loss from this cause as well as the number of fires of this character have taken a considerable drop.

"It may be well to mention that the officers and men of the fire department desire to, at all times, assist and acquaint the people of Santa Ana with all phases of fire fighting and fire prevention. Fire stations in all parts of the city are open every day with firemen assigned to escorting visitors through the engine houses, explaining all angles of the profession that may prove interesting to the visitor."

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Sensational price movements in Ford Motor of Canada overshadowed other developments in curb market trading today. After opening 95 points higher at $25, the stock slumped to 781 and then quickly shot forward to $875, a new record high.

But trading in the general market was restrained by further apprehension over credit conditions and changes for the most part were limited to less than a point.

Widespread rumors that Ford of Canada was planning to offer 100 shares of new $5 par value stock for each present share outstanding brought heavy buying into the issue but denial was promptly made by W. Campbell, vice-president of the company. This had no effect on the stock.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

By WILLIAM P. McKENNA

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Wheat was slightly lower because of a weak market at Liverpool today. Corn advanced with sharply higher price in Argentina. Oats were little changed.

Late in the day wheat was ⅜ to ½c lower; corn was up ¼ to ⅜c and oats were ⅜ cents lower. Provisions were slightly lower.

Trading in wheat was very quiet during the morning session.

Corn rallied after a rather weak opening on the sharply higher prices at Buenos Aires.

Oats were inclined to follow corn. The cash situation continues firm.

Cash markets were: wheat unchanged to ¼ cents higher; and oats unchanged.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Cash wheat.
No. 3 mixed, $1.10.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(UP)—A spectacular rise of $160 per share in Ford Motor of Canada followed by a decline of greater magnitude and a frenzied rush to buy Standard Oil of Indiana for voting control by Rockefeller and Stewart interests featured the financial markets here today.

Ford opened at $825, rose to $890, a new record, and a gain of $160 over the previous close. Then a statement was issued by W. R. Campbell, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., denying that a stock split or other form of recapitalization was in prospect. Just before the close the issue broke to $710, off $180 from the high. it rallied to close at $735. Transactions in odd lot amounts brought total sales to 2200 shares, which at an average of $800 per share meant an outlay of $1,616,000.

WHEN MILES CEASE TO BE BARRIERS

A mere matter of miles has deprived many a one of the opportunity for profit or enjoyment. The ownership of a Studebaker car removes this handicap from life and confers personal advantages worth far more than the cost of the car. Our business as an automobile dealer is to see that you get continuous and permanent satisfaction in automobile ownership. Both you and we benefit because we live up to that obligation.

The trees are young and have an estimated crop of 4000 boxes; water comes at practically no cost at all; taxes are low; there are tools and a modern house. After the first payment, the interest and principal come from the crop. You just can't lose on a proposition like this. 3075.

EVENING SALUTATION

That which is done for self dies. You say it is pleasure—well enjoy it. But joyous recollection is no longer joy. That which ends in self is mortal; that alone which goes out of self into God lasts forever.

—Frederick W. Robertson.

HUMAN LIFE PRECIOUS

One person took the life of another and himself in the rooms of an apartment house in this city, either Saturday night or Sunday morning. The motive is difficult to learn, if there was one, and of course, we know there was no adequate one.

As we scan the news from day to day, we are impressed with the decreasing valuation placed upon human life by certain people and groups. Nothing could be more salutary on the general observance of laws governing acts of violence than for an emphasis to be placed on personality, upon the rights of the individual, and upon the value of a human life.

We do not know from whence we came, and we cannot be sure of whither we are going. As an eloquent orator of the last generation put it, "Every cradle asks us whence, and every coffin, whither." All we are certain of is of the present, that we are, that we have our being, that it is a period of trial, of joy, of sorrow, of preparation, of growth, of responsibility, and of opportunity. If there is anything sacred in the world it is the person's right to possess this period for the length of time that the Creator intended he should enjoy it. The most terrible act in the world is for any individual, of his own volition, to either cut that period short for himself or for others by commission of the crime of murder.

Some years ago we heard the governor of one of our states describe how he came to a realization of the value of a life. It was the evening before two convicted murderers were to be executed. Members of the families of each had besought him with tears and supplications to grant a reprieve for the respective member of their family. The governor was a man of tender heart and conscience, and the two lives that were in his trust on that tragic night grew in their importance as the hours passed on after the members of their families had left him. The governor described how he paced the floor of his office far into the morning, how he asked for divine guidance, how he examined and re-examined the evidence and the opinions of the court and the officers, and how finally he was lead to reprieve the one and to let the law take its course in the other. "But," said he, "I learned that night something of the value that the Father of us all places upon the life of an individual."

The coldness, the bravado, the indifference evidenced by men and women who take human life is in such marked contrast to the evaluation placed upon it by such an one as this governor as to suggest that there is need of far-reaching agitation and action by those who may affect public opinion and the administration of law to the end of properly considering the lives of men.

We cannot give a life. We can, by our own act, terminate it. But as civilization has advanced and has grown, there is a holier view of human rights, and more and more the power to terminate a life is left with that being who is its creator.

The sorrow and distress in the home is great enough when through natural causes, accident, or sickness, we must bid a last farewell to those whose protection and support we have been, or others have been, and to whom our life has gone out in love. This, we say, is hard enough, but to have it terminated by the hand of an assassin, or by the person taking his own life, brings a grief so poignant that it casts the saddest imaginary spell upon the mourner through the remainder of his life. Let us value our own life and the lives of others.

Several New York dairies are delivering their milk in waxed-paper cartons. Milkmen, however, will think up some new kind of noise to replace the tinkling bottles.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS GRAVE MENACE

There are few more serious actions than that of driving an automobile when under the influence of intoxicating liquor. A powerful engine geared to a moving vehicle, generating a great momentum and force has potentialities of danger in the hands of one who is in his right senses and who is constantly alert for any possible danger along the highway, but in the hands of one whose brain has become befogged, whose hand is unsteady, whose vision is blurred, it becomes a practical menace. Daily, property is destroyed, bodies are maimed, and human life is taken by these drunken drivers.

If the danger was confined to the one who did the driving, there would not be much cause for complaint, but every person who drives an automobile on the highway, saying nothing about those who occupy the automobile with the driver who is intoxicated, is in constant danger from the automobile so driven, and he has no more control over the situation than a child has over the rotations of the earth.

No person should be permitted to drive a car who is known to be addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor. Before prohibition went into effect the rules governing the employees of railroads prohibited the use of liquor. Yet the engineer and firemen on a locomotive have not within them the power to destroy others to as great degree as has the drunken driver of an automobile. At least, this is true in some respects. The locomotive must certainly stay upon its own track. It cannot move from side to side. It may be ditched, it may have a head-on collision, it may strike a pedestrian on the track, but in all these cases it can only do this with the object being on or near its own track. But the drunken driver swings from one side of the highway to another, driving here and there, cutting in on this one and that one, so that there is no assurance in any possible way to a driver of any other car that he will not meet a catastrophe.

The public-at-large, and every individual should aid in keeping safe our highways. To that end not only should drunken drivers be punished, but they should lose the right to drive a car, and no man should ever get a license to drive a car who is known to use liquor.

We have known those who refused to enter an automobile because they knew that the owner had been drinking. We know a case where after such refusal the owner drove the car and caused his own death, and the death of two others in another automobile. The person who refused to enter the car with the drunken driver had not done enough when she refused to ride with him, she should have seen to it that he was not permitted to enter the car himself. In that particular instance it would had saved three lives.

It takes, in the midst of the traffic now on our highways, a clear brain, a keen eye, and a steady hand to have any reasonable insurance against danger of accidents. The moment intoxicating liquor is taken into the system the co-ordinate powers of the body is disturbed, sometimes entirely destroyed.

Our prosecutors, our courts, and our juries should take a strong stand upon these matters, but no stronger than the individual citizen should take in supporting them in their enforcement of the law in respect to drunken drivers.

Little girls who stay up half the night practicing scales on the piano ought to go far.

CHOOSING THE EASIEST WAY

It is rare indeed when one goes to church and does not hear something worth thinking about.

A minister said something Sunday about making choices, and called attention to the mistake of always choosing the easier way. We only wish he had gone on and developed the idea more thoroughly but he didn't have time.

We are constantly making decisions, choosing between two lines of action and the great temptation is to choose the way which, for the present causes less trouble and inconvenience. It is easier for a boy to choose a job which pays pretty well at the start than to prepare for a calling which gives a far better income eventually. It is easier to do the thing of which your friends approve than alienate them by following your own conscience. It is easier to spend money than to save it.

To sum the matter up, it is easy to discount the future at too high a rate. It is most difficult of all to choose the hard thing when everything but your own sense of right points to the easier way. The difference between the attitude of one who is always willing to swim with the stream than against it is the difference between a weak, flabby character and a strong, forceful one.

The student who habitually chooses easy courses rather than hard ones gets better marks, but he has not the pleasure and satisfaction which comes from overcoming obstacles. More than this, however, he loses the splendid mental discipline which always comes from mastering different problems.

Strong, worth-while characters are built by repression of the temporary present pleasure for the sake of the permanent future good, and this applies to material success as well as to spiritual and moral matters.

Yes, it pays to go to church and listen.

Building Good Roads In Mexico

Pasadena Star-News

Mexico is starting a series of improvements which promise to be epochal. The government at the City of Mexico has a highway construction plan to cover a period of five years, and to involve the expenditure of 82,000,000 pesos. The work is to start immediately and run to 1934. Some of the most important highways in the neighbor republic will be constructed, or re-constructed, under this plan.

The projected roads will open up rich producing zones. Important regions of Mexico, now isolated for lack of good roads, will receive outlets. This most surely will stimulate general economic development in Mexico. The outlay of so much money will add to the prosperity of the country. There will be huge payrolls. There will be heavy expenditures for construction materials.

Included in the great program of road construction is the Mexican section of the Pan-American highway from the United States border to the frontier of Guatemala, which is to be completed by 1934.

American capital will figure largely in this extensive scheme of road construction in the neighbor republic. And the construction of trunk highways will be beneficial to the United States and Mexico, mutually, as they will be enabled to enlarge their highway traffic across the international boundary.

Home and School

Christian Science Monitor

The important part played by the home in the education of children is being more forcibly recognized by educational authorities. In view of this opinion of experts it is well that parents awaken to the tremendous responsibility and opportunity which is theirs to see that the home suroundings be such that they will stimulate and encourage the child to employ to the utmost the educational advantages which he receives during his school hours.

A deplorable tendency of the present day is to leave the cultural and disciplinary side of a child's life entirely to its teachers, but unless the teaching of the school is reinforced and supplemented by the home environment something of incalculable value will be missing. Teachers are undeniably doing some of the most important and constructive work in the world today, but it obviously is unfair to expect that they can cram into a few short hours that which should be the outcome of the daily and hourly experience of the child in the home. That there is something to be learned from right family traditions was exemplified recently when a splendid specimen of an English schoolboy was heard to say: "Well, you see, my family have always been pretty fine and I can't let them down." In giving him such a sense of honor and responsibility, the home had co-operated with the school in a manner that was invaluable in the formation of his character.

Kemal Might Educate Himself Out of a Job

San Francisco Chronicle

Most men would have been satisfied on New Year's day with having done the job of replacing the Mohammedan calendar in Turkey with our Occidental method of measuring the days and months. But the ubiquitous and versatile Kemal Pasha observed the occasion by a resolution that in four months 90 per cent of the people of Turkey shall be not only literate, but literate in Latin characters instead of the Arabic script.

Accordingly, town criers accompanied by drum beaters went through Turkish villages calling upon all to enroll in school classes to learn to read and write Turkish in the Latin characters.

The goal at which Kemal aims is one we might not scorn even in an advanced democracy—ninety per cent literacy. He takes a long chance, however. If he educates the Turk too far he may find he has a customer who will know too much to stand for a dictator.

THREE CHEERS FOR BOSTON

Where pedestrians fill streets to the exclusion of automobiles.

In Boston, birthplace of the free
And cradle of the brave,
Where man will never learn to be
A minion or a slave,
In that sublime historic spot,
With valiant deeds replete
Pedestrians will simply not
Be crowded off the street.

Immune to siren, horn, and gong
From cars that seek to pass
The winding thoroughfares they throng
In solid, serried mass.
For conscience and their country's sake
Throughout the hectic day
These Sons of Freedom simply take
Their calm untroubled way.

They do not dash from curb to curb
In panic stricken flight,
Aloof, and haughty and superb
They glance not left nor right
And never chauffeur is so bold
That he would dare invade
The purlieus of that stern and cold
And unperturbed parade.

And thus on many a sinuous street
In brave old Boston town
Does glorious history repeat
Its annals of renown.
The Hub, fed long on Freedom's air
The scene of gallant fights
Remains the only city where
Pedestrians know their rights.

Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE DANGER OF SAFETY

An insurance company that specializes in accident risks has published some interesting facts about how people get hurt.

Using a yearly record of over thirty thousand claims as the basis of the observation, they point out that the dangerous places are the safe places.

It is usually thought that the stepladder is the most dangerous place around the house. The record shows that the bathtub and the bed both are more dangerous. More people were hurt in the simple operation of getting out of bed and falling in the bathtub than were hurt on stepladders.

More of the policy holders were hurt playing golf and fishing, comparatively safe sports, than were injured playing football.

More children were seriously injured by safety-pins than by knives or guns.

From the statistics it would appear that you are in most danger when you are safe.

The reason probably is that in real danger you realize your position and are on the alert and are more careful than under conditions that you imagine are wtihout menace.

This principle carries pretty well through life.

In your job, about the time you think you are solidly planted and have clear sailing with mere repetition of what you can do easily, you get a jolt.

As soon as you think your job is safe, you begin to slide.

It is when you realize that you have to fight for your place and have to do your best from day to day, that you are most likely to hold your own.

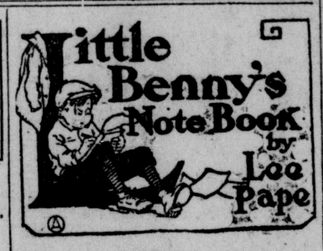

The same is true in the matter of morals. As soon as you think you have overcome a bad habit and are safe, look out! "Nature," says Bacon, "is sometimes overcome, seldom extinguished." When you recognize temptation and know you have a fight on your hands, you are safer, usually, than when you seem to have won the fight.

"The best way to be safe is never to be secure," was one of the best epigrams credited to Poor Richard.

It is to be doubted that we would lead saner lives if we all had a hundred thousand dollars in the bank and didn't have to worry about the poor house.

STARS

Nuthing is more bewtiful than a sky pack full of stars after suppir, and if nobody had never saw anything like it before they would all be telling everybody elts to look, ony everybody is so use to it by this time that the ony thing it generally makes them think of is that its not going to rain.

Wile we are looking up at some little star and wondering if there is anybody alive on it and feeling sorry for them so far away up there in case there is, somebody up there may be looking at the arth at the same time and wondering if peeple live here and if we have sents enough to tawk and diffrent things the same as them.

This proves no matter how wonderful we are its wrong to think we are so exter grate, because for all we know the peeple up on some star 5 million miles up in the air may of invented the radio before we was born, and their children may have free public candy stores and movies and may not even haff to go to skool on account of being born with perfeck educations.

Some stars are hunderds of times bigger than the whole erth put together, so even if you owned the entire werld you wouldent be so much considering. This proves nobody would ever feel sattisfied if they thawt too much about it.

A shotting star is a star off the track and is more fun to watch than to be hit by. If the erth ever got in the way of a star it would proberly make the biggest bump in the history of the werld and proberly the last.

This proves some of the luckiest things are the ones that dont happen.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files 14 Years Ago Today

JANUARY 15, 1915

At a meeting of the Santa Ana board of health it was decided to request Assemblyman Burke to make an effort to have a measure put through the legislature, providing that cities in the fifth class, of which Santa Ana is one, may appoint an inspector of foods, markets, and dairies.

Mrs. Fanny Lacy, president of the Rebekah assembly, was the honored guest at a meeting of the Torosa Rebekah lodge.

Officers who were installed for the new Sedgwick post, G. A. R., included F. S. Haughawont, commander; P. E. Newman, senior vice-commander; G. C. Baker, junior vice commander; C. C. Shaw, surgeon; D. G. Mosbaugh, quartermaster; C. E. Chaffee, chaplain; J. P. Lawrence, officer of the day; A. J. Cole, officer of the guard; E. T. Langley, patriotic instructor; H. F. Stone, adjutant; J. W. Powers, sergeant major; and C. M. Stine, quartermaster sergeant.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

WHY EUROPE HATES AMERICA

Yesterday I spoke of the so-called Americanization of Europe as simply a figure of speech to describe the fact that machine civilization is spreading over the old world.

Today I want to speak of the relation this bears to the alleged European hatred of America.

There is no use denying that the development of a machine civilization means, at least for a long transition period, the death of many precious values that flowered from the soil of a social order resting upon agriculture, handicraft, and the disinterested pursuit of truth and beauty for their own sakes.

It has meant that in the United States.

The millions of Europeans and Asiatics who are spiritually wedded to the ways of a pre-machine world know this.

Their rage rises as the shadow of an impending industrialization fall across their lives.

They struggle to make their rage articulate.

They have seen science and the machine, expressed in the industrial rush and roar of America, result in standards, processes, and a tempo of working and living against which their spirits revolt.

And, since the human animal always finds it easier to swear at a people than to subject a process to analysis and control the pre-machine minds of the old world cry out against the "Americanization" of Europe.

This, I suspect, more than the strange manners of American tourists or the insistence of American treasury officials, is the real cause of the European "hatred" of Americans.

But no amount of rage will stop the march of the machines; Europe will build and buy more and more machines.

The Europe of Shakespeare and Shelley, of Turner and Titian, of Beethoven and Bach, of Mont-Saint-Michel and Chartres is destined to be remade by physical science and industrial technology.

Europe will be Americanized, not by the action of Americans, but by the action of the same forces that made America a machine civilization.

Maybe then the pressure of a common problem will lead us to repent both the snobbery of the professional European and the swagger of the professional American, and to pool our genius for the discovery of ways and means for mastering our machines instead of being mastered by them.

THANK YOU LETTERS

Hugh came gaily into the living room. It was plain he had been working out of doors for he wore cap and sweater, his nose was red and sniffy, his boots were wet and muddy, and he trailed a spade that bore traces of hard service.

"Mom Mom, Ma, Ma."

"Yes, Hugh, yes. What in the world? Couldn't you wipe your feet, my son?"

"Yes'm, Mom. I just thought of somethin'. Can you spell reservoir?"

Yes. I can. Why?"

"Well, don't forget it until tonight 'cause I want to put it in a letter to Gram. I just thought of it. She'll be glad she gave me that set o' tools all right, all right," and he trailed out as he had come, tramping stoutly, sniffing, and well pleased with himself and his world.

His mother laughed and explained to her guest. "You see when Hugh gets a gift he has to send off a thank you for it before he can use it. This Christmas grandmother gave him a set of tools for our doors, spade and shovel and hoe and rake and hatchet and pick and barrow and some wood and nails and a lot of things, all in a big box.

"When it came he was so excited all he could write was, "Dear Gram, Thanks." A little later he returned to the job and wrote, "Great." That satisfied him for that time. He worked a little while longer with his tolls and took up his pen again. This time he wrote, "Some tools." The next day he felt his expression of appreciation was still too meagre and he wrote in capital letters, "O BOY," and signed the completed work "HUGH."

"A month has gone by since he got those tools but he still finds new joy in that gift and whenever it brims over he writes another line to Gram. He has been building a reservoir today and wants her to know what fun he is having.

"It pleases his gradmother immensely and it does him a lot of good, too. I do like to see children appreciative of other folks' thought of them. Don't you?"

"Of course. But I can't drive my youngsters to write a thank you note. I wait until I'm ashamed and then I write it myself. If I waited for them to do it they would never do it."

Neither would Hugh have written in the first place but when he was too little to write alone his mother held his hand. And the rule in that household of few rules is, "Before you use a gift your thanks must have been sent."

For the child's soul's sake he should say "thank you."
